

Asserts U. S. To Build Ireland Base

Assertion Made By Sen. Wheeler

Declares Bases Planned In Northern Ireland And Scotland

BASE BEING BUILT IS ANOTHER REPORT

By ROBERT A. MCGILL, International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Sen. Wheeler (D) Mont., leading non-interventionist, who predicted the occupation of Ireland before it was announced by President Roosevelt, today asserted that he has been reliably informed that the U. S. intends to construct military bases in Northern Ireland and Scotland.

The fiery Montanan, who has been severely criticized by the White House and British Prime Minister Churchill for his Ireland prediction, said that it was not made clear to him whether the bases are to be occupied by American troops, or whether they are to be constructed for occupancy by the British.

Charge Base Being Built
His assertion followed a charge in the senate by Sen. Taft (R) Ohio, another non-interventionist leader, that he had been told on "reliable authority" that this nation is constructing a naval air base in Northern Ireland for Great Britain, the charge also was made by Sen. Danaher (R) Conn.

Meanwhile, as the non-interventionist bloc made the charges and blamed the administration for occupation of Ireland, Sen. George (D) Ga., chairman of the powerful senate foreign relations committee, said that he would be opposed to any further steps placing American troops on territory outside the western hemisphere.

George said that he does not believe the present emergency war-time expansion of the precedent set by occupation of Ireland. The Georgian asserted that reasons for occupying Ireland are "reasonably clear" but intimated that additional steps could not come under the defense classification attributed by the president to occupation of the sub-Arctic country.

"The reasons for the occupation of Ireland are pretty well understood and reasonably clear," George said. "The reasons are regarded as sufficient by the American people to justify the action taken."

"But similar reasons do not appear to exist, and I think do not exist, for the sending of military or naval forces to any other points outside the western hemisphere."

Wheeler sharply criticized the New Deal for what he termed failure to exercise an independent foreign policy, and said that there is little question but what occupancy of bases in Ireland or Scotland by American troops "would mean a shooting war."

"Our present foreign policy," Wheeler said, "whatever Prime Minister Churchill wants, or says he needs."

As heated debate continued over the Ireland move, some light on whether the navy has been given orders to shoot and sink any German warship appearing in the sea lanes between Ireland and the U. S. may be shed in questioning of Secretary of the Navy Knox and Admiral Harold R. Stark, chief of naval operations, by the senate naval affairs committee. The naval chiefs were summoned for testimony on reports that the American navy has engaged in combat with German vessels.

A bitter fight was predicted, meanwhile, over war department recommendations that prohibitions against the use of American troops outside the western hemisphere be removed.

REAPPORTIONMENT IS STUMBLING BLOCK IN PATH OF LEGISLATORS

until the state had been redistricted, "many of the senators are in favor of going home this weekend, willing to take the chance that the Republican party will be able to make a clean sweep of the congressional elections next year." Another who favored remaining in session was Senator John M. Walker (R) Allegheny, chairman of the important judiciary general committee.

Many Demands Made
Many assemblies and senators, especially Republicans, were in receipt of communications from congressmen elected from their districts demanding that the legislature remain in session until the state has been reapportioned.

Four Democratic senators, in an effort to delay final adjournment, introduced a resolution in the Senate calling for enactment of a congressional reapportionment bill before the session's close. They were Senators Edward J. Coleman, Lackawanna; John H. Dent, Westmoreland; Joseph M. Barr, Allegheny, and John F. Cox, Allegheny.

Immediate action on the resolution was blocked by the objections of Senator Ealy, but Coleman said the four would call the resolution up again today for approval.

May Force Special Session
Many legislators believe that if the legislature adjourns without enacting a reapportionment bill, Gov. Arthur H. James will be forced to call a special session later for that purpose.

The anti-adjournment resolution stated that failure to reapportion the state "would result in an exorbitant cost to the taxpayers and would be inimical to the principles of a democratic form of government." In addition, the resolution stated, such failure was "contrary to the rules of the United States of America and to the best interest of the citizens of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania."

In the event a last-minute agreement is reached in congressional reapportionment and legislative leaders go ahead with their plans for adjournment, the final gavel on the longest session in 99 years is expected to fall Sunday night or Monday morning. The final adjournment date will probably be officially set for tomorrow and the clock turned back until all last-minute business has been transacted.

Senator Ealy predicted that the session "at the earliest" could not adjourn before 11 o'clock Sunday evening.

NAVY WILL ASK FOR HUGE FUND

the navy and maritime commission requests next week and the leasehold proposals some time later.

All of these are expected to boost total appropriations for this session of Congress to around the $50,000,000 mark, and in view of this increased spending Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau hinted that the pending tax bill may have to be revised upward.

Brings Sharp Retort

This suggestion brought a sharp retort from Representative Doughton (D) N. C., chairman of the House Ways and Means committee which has written the $3,500,000,000 new tax bill.

"You tell the secretary that maybe he'll have to revise his figures downward instead," Doughton exclaimed.

Other members of the tax group, however, are inclined to take the position that new revenue will have to be raised somehow.

Both Representative Dingell (D) Mich., and Representative Keogh (D) N. Y., said that they would back the present $3,500,000,000 bill but that after its passage they would favor a possible upward revision of some of the rates.

"What we're raising in taxes is just a drop in the bucket," Representative Reed (R) N. Y., minority member of the tax committee said in adding his approval for more revenue.

"We're on the toboggan. I understand they're going to ask for $10,000,000,000 more and we'll have to have more revenue."

In addition to the ordinance item, the new army request included $442,123,275 for clothing and equipment and which legislators said would be used as supplies for increasing the land manpower from 1,400,000 to 1,800,000, and $204,000,000 for the air corps which is expected to be used to start stepping up the 48,000 plane program to 70,000.

FAR EAST NOW BEING WATCHED

American aid to Russia, American diplomatic officials, however, agree that the matter of American help to Russia is closely related to the entire military and diplomatic situation in the Pacific.

Outwardly, the state department is saying little that would inflame Japanese opinion. Yesterday, Acting Secretary of State Sumner Welles formally denied that the United States is negotiating with Russia for military and naval bases in Siberia. Welles "cited the German government of spreading rumors to this effect in order to foment further discord between the United States and Japan."

St. Louis. The plane struck a down draft at 500 feet and literally fell out from under Woodrick.

The cadet turned a somersault and a half in the air and came down backwards on the fuselage, near the tail. Digging his heels into the fabric of the plane and clinging to the sides of the fuselage, Woodrick rode jockey fashion to the ground.

MOSCOW REPORTS GROUND ACTIVITY NEAR STANDSTILL

yesterday on an unidentified sector at the cost of some 6,000 Nazis killed, wounded or captured.

In a communique which apologized for the lack of "events of importance," the Soviet information bureau described how red army artillery shattered a German attack and turned it into a rout.

"The enemy started to advance on the right flank of 'X' fortifications," the war bulletin said.

Many Nazis Dead
"Our artillery went into action heavily and the enemy retreated, leaving more than 3,500 dead and wounded behind, while 2,400 were taken prisoner."

"More than 70 enemy tanks were destroyed and a great deal of material was captured. Our air force joined in and succeeded in destroying several dozen tanks."

This communique, which followed the announcement that one German motorized division had been "wiped out" and another severely defeated, said "no events of importance" occurred at the front during yesterday's fighting.

Air Activity
But in the air, it stated, Soviet planes bombed German armored units in the Ostrov and Novograd Volinsk sectors and successfully attacked enemy troops crossing the western Dvina river.

In addition, it was claimed, Soviet planes bombed enemy aircraft on the ground. Twenty-eight German planes were said to have been destroyed while Russian losses were placed at six machines.

The red air force apparently was concentrating on the Ostrov sector of the Baltic front, the Polodsk-Lepel region and the Novograd Volinsk region to halt the triple Nazi drives against Leningrad, Moscow and the Ukraine.

The government newspaper Izvestia said that the Russian air force already had gained air supremacy over the Luftwaffe and claimed the German aviation losses were so great that the German planes are now manned by "striplings." These "raw youths," the paper said, are avoiding air combat with Soviet airmen.

BERLIN ASSERTS REPORT IS COMING OF SOVIET DEFEAT

Nazi announcement will spell the doom of serious Soviet resistance in western Russia followed the high command's declaration regarding the Bialystok-Minsk conflict—the "biggest battle in the history of the world"—and its claim that more than 400,000 Red army prisoners have been taken.

Fighting Rages Hotly

Military circles in Berlin said the fighting now badly raging along the eastern front already has reached a point assuring that the Soviet forces will be routed from European Russia.

The government asserted that the Germans still are using on a vast scale their favorite pincer maneuvers to encircle the massed divisions of crack Red army troops on the various sectors of the huge front.

Qualified sources in Berlin indicated the outcome of the fighting on the Stalin line will overshadow even the first great stage of the war which found the Germans victorious in the Bialystok-Minsk pocket, Galicia and the Baltic states, where the Russians are claimed to have lost 1,000,000 men and their best equipment.

The same quarters expressed belief that the military situation in Russia after the Stalin line battles have ended will be similar to that in France after the Weyand line was cracked.

By that time, it was stated, the military backbone of the Red army will have been broken, leaving the Soviet high command no choice but abandonment of western Russia.

Make Big Claims

It was predicted that when this happens, the Russian army will attempt to do everything in accordance with Premier Josef Stalin's demands that only scorched earth be left for the advancing Germans.

This withdrawal, it was forecast, will prove to be a race against the German frontal advance into the Soviet hinterland.

In the Bialystok-Minsk battle, the German victory was claimed to have been accomplished by capture or destruction of thousands of Soviet planes, tanks, guns and other war machines.

Furthermore, said the communique, two Soviet armies caught in the Bialystok-Minsk pocket two weeks ago now have been completely destroyed.

The Red air force since the blitz began 19 days ago was said to have lost the stupendous total of 6,233 planes.

Other figures said 7,615 Russian tanks and 4,232 field guns were destroyed or captured.

Claim 323,896 Prisoners

Depicting the victory as the greatest ever attained by German arms, the high command communique, issued from Chancellor Hitler's headquarters on the eastern front, declared the Germans took more than 323,896 Russian prisoners in this one huge struggle alone.

This, it was stated, brought the total number of Russian soldiers captured to more than 400,000. Among the captives were several Russian commanding generals and divisional commanders, according to the communique.

More than 3,000 Russian tanks were knocked out of action in the Bialystok-Minsk region alone, along with 1,800 artillery pieces and "immense" stocks of other war material seized in the same central sector.

Card Of Thanks
We wish to thank our friends and neighbors for their kindness during the illness and death of Gertrude Evans, niece and aunt of Joseph Evans and Joseph Mitchell, Jr.

The transport is scheduled to sail for Lisbon with German and Italian consuls expelled from the United States and to return with American consuls departing from axis countries.

GRILL SECRETARY KNOX ON REPORT OF NAVY CONFLICT

He indicated that he would demand that the session be opened to the public after preliminary questioning of Knox.

Senator Wheeler (D) Mont., who caused the inquiry by introducing a resolution for an investigation of charges that the United States has sunk naval units of another power, was absent. He is not a member of the committee.

Walsh banned taking of pictures and hurriedly ordered the room cleared of newspapermen after Knox entered, so that the committee could immediately plunge into inquiry.

Knox, who carried a sheaf of papers in his hand, appeared ready to present a prepared statement outlining the navy's attitude toward the inquiry.

The navy secretary took a seat immediately opposite Senator Johnson, and was expected to be one of the chief inquirers.

NAZI HAND IN SOUTH AMERICA?

IT IS probable that, even in the midst of his Russian adventure, Hitler has found time to watch with interest the miniature battles fought in the last few days in the steaming jungles on the Peru-Ecuador border. War between these or any other South American nations at this critical time, when the co-operation of all is essential to hemisphere defense, would be right up Hitler's alley.

That the latest border clash has been deliberately provoked by Nazi agents is still open to proof, but it is significant that it was charged in Argentina weeks ago that German fifth columnists were actively promoting a Peru-Ecuador break and were trying to obstruct the mediation efforts of other Powers. We may be sure that if there is anything that the strong Nazi element in South America can do to fan the flames of open war anywhere on that continent, it will not hesitate to do it.

On the face of it, the current incident does not look any more serious than countless other boundary disputes between the same republics, or between Peru and Chile or Ecuador and Colombia. But, unless quickly arbitrated, it could easily develop into a major conflict, with resultant bloodshed and bitterness, disruptive to South American peace and good feeling between nations.

It is important that this fire be extinguished while it is still controllable. The renewed mediation offers made by the United States, Argentina and Brazil, announced by Acting Secretary of State Welles and calling initially for withdrawal of military forces from disputed territory, should be helpful. It is unthinkable that differences over the ownership of a few jungle villages that don't even appear on the maps should be allowed to unsettle Pan-American relations at this juncture.

TANK-CAR TRAINS

While the oil supply of the Atlantic Coast states eventually can be provided through the proposed trunk pipelines from the mid-continent fields to the eastern markets—or through rehabilitation of the decimated tanker fleets—it will take time to construct those lines or new ships, and apparently the railroads are coming to the rescue by speeding up the schedules of tank-car trains.

In this day of fancy transportation of one kind or another it is not the first instance of a helping hand from the railroads in the form of freight hauling which while old is still effective.

When fifty big ocean oil tankers were removed from the coastwise run from Texas to New England and turned over to the service of supplying Britain with oil, the threatened shortage of fuel in the heaviest consuming market in America was something to give everybody in that region concern. The first assistance offered in this emergency was to remove the maximum load limit of those ocean tankers still in the coastwise business. That helped but it did not fill the bill.

Now tank cars are being requisitioned everywhere and while the freight rates to the Atlantic seaboard to the deep interior are necessarily high because of the wage scales the railroads are paying, more and more oil is moving across the country in them. Tank-car trains out of Texas, Oklahoma, and Kansas, headed East and following speedy running schedules, are becoming an impressive part of the summer landscape in the Midwest.

PRICE PUZZLES

Following charges that he is exceeding his authority, Leon Henderson, price administrator, is asking for a Congressional enactment giving a board of Federal officials broad control over prices. In approaching the problem Congressmen foresee that such a discussion will be much more involved than arguments over the tariff once were.

There are so many factors in the makeup of prices that it is almost a super-human job to make them all dovetail in an equitable arrangement. The government has had some success in freezing metals prices because that is a comparatively simple field.

Dipping into rubber, Henderson soon discovered that if the price of a product like a tire were frozen, quality might suffer. Dictating both price and quality broadens the control field greatly. In fixing prices of raw materials, Henderson is bumping into the wrath of farm leaders. Recently he advised a motor car company to rescind a price increase, saying profits were ample under old schedules.

Here he encounters the cost not only of raw materials but an even more important cost, which is labor. If the cost of labor continues to increase, how may the price of finished products be held down even if raw materials are stabilized?

There are prospects for almost endless trouble in price control. But Congress, seeking an inflation-avoiding formula, knows not whither to turn.

"THE UNKNOWN WAR"

Winston Churchill, in his less crowded years as a historian of the first World War, wrote of the struggle in the East between Russia and Germany as "the unknown war." This same characterization can be applied with accuracy to the current conflict between the forces of Hitler and Stalin.

Fighting on a vast stage, with huge forces involved and distances that are limitless, the loss of a mile or a hundred miles, a thousand men or a hundred thousand men, will not prove a determining factor in Russia any more than in China, where space is infinite and manpower is inexhaustible.

Concededly, the German armies have gone far and destroyed much. But it is also undeniable that the Germans are meeting greater opposition than they had expected and that the crisis of the war has not been reached.

"There is a feeling here," London reports, "that the Germans are disappointed in their progress so far and that there are indications that at any time the Russians might win some dramatic victory."

A bit of wishful thinking, perhaps, but it at least seems reasonable to state that Germany is now deep in its most formidable task except the conquest of England, one which may leave it weakened and vulnerable to defeat in the final test of power; still to be faced in the distant future.

The soaring temperature of this summer does not stop the youth of the country from being "caught in a draft."

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Meyers, Ph. D.

TEACH MUSIC DURING VACATION TIME

After a week or two of vacation the average runabout child may find time heavy on his hands. For a good many children whose parents wish them to have instrumental music lessons, summer would be the best time of year for these lessons. While to a few such children having to practice during vacation might seem a terrible burden, many others having playful parents might wish to cooperate with them. If several children who are playmates all had music lessons during summer, none of them would object. On the contrary, they might like it.

Some children taking music lessons during the school year do so at great cost to their physical and mental health. Music practice is just one of the many things which may consume nearly all their time outside of school and deprive them of their coveted and greatly needed hours of play out of doors with other children.

Win Child's Cooperation
To win the child's best cooperation his parents would, of course, have to exercise considerable skill. They would aim to keep the child from thinking these lessons a burden or means of punishment. Some children over eight or ten might be induced to cooperate in such a summer program in order to be ready to become members of the band or orchestra at school.

The child who has not yet begun with instrumental music lessons might most readily grow adapted to such a summer program. Whether summer or winter, he should practice at a regular time each day, preferably for two or more short periods rather than a single long one. Except for illness he should not, as a rule, be allowed to give up the program.

The beginner usually will learn instrumental music best, and at least total cost, if for the first several weeks or months, the practice is with the teacher, the purpose being to prevent early errors and promote accurate learning in the early stages. These early successes in any skill are important for later progress and for assuring the learner he can succeed.

Practice Required
For most children the early years and months require considerable drudgery, and continuous practice. But as skill improves, following the jumping of these earlier hard hurdles, the practice tends to grow less a task and more a pleasure.

If any parent happens to find her child always eager to practice or inclined to practice longer than is expected of her, this parent has good reason to be very happy and thankful. The child is probably only one in a thousand to play a musical instrument. It is hard work.

If your child has trouble with arithmetic, write me at 235 East 45th street, N. Y. City, about his trouble as you understand it, and let me try to offer some help. Please enclose a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp.

Solving Parent Problems
Q. When my boy twelve years old is preparing written school work at home, he often will ask me or his father to spell a word for him. Should we spell it, or tell him to look it up in the dictionary?

A. Spell it, by all means. If you tell him to look up the word himself he probably will guess at it instead. Anyway, it is very hard to find a word in the dictionary when you don't know how to spell it.

What's What At A Glance

Monthly Tax Payments Are Suggested
Would Prove Easier On Payer, Claim
Government Promissory Notes Coming

By CHARLES P. STEWART

Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Paying Uncle Sam's taxes next time will cost just as much if they're paid in advance monthly installments as it'll cost if the taxpayer lets 'em pile up until the next regular annual due date and forks over the whole year's accumulation in a lump sum. He probably won't notice it as much, however, on a monthly basis as he will if he's socked, at a single shot, for the entire 12 months.

Of course the taxpayer can, if he chooses, save up, per month, enough dough to have the required amount on hand when the annual time comes. The trouble is, though, that the average taxpayer hasn't the foresight to do his own saving. Or, even if he has the foresight, theoretically, to do it, great numbers of him haven't the strength of mind to do the actual saving.

But Treasury Secretary Henry Morgenthau's notion is that most of his victims have the good judgment and resolution to acquire and stick to the habit of budgeting, say, $25 monthly each out of his own income for Uncle Sam's benefit—providing he'll take it away from 'em promptly, instead of leaving it on their hands to make ducks and drakes of during succeeding months until, all at once, 12 times $25, at once swipe, is payable.

Coal On Same Basis

I can see the point. Some while ago (I've mentioned the matter previously) Leon Henderson, our national emergency price-fixer, advised householders to lay in their winter's coal supplies during the summer, because, when winter does come, there's likely to be a defense transportation congestion and the stuff'll be a damned sight more expensive. What Leon had in mind was the general public interest, but what I had in mind was my personal pocketbook's interest.

I've but the merest modicum of financial sense, but it was adequate to suggest that Economist Henderson's hint was worth acting on. So I'm buying a monthly ton of coal all summer. It makes me ache now, but I'll ache correspondingly less when Jack Frost sets in.

Ditto federal taxes. I shan't like mulcting myself $25 monthly for 'em as I go along, but, when the total war's due, I'll be blamed glad to tell Secretary Morgenthau, "Here's your final $25. The rest of it's paid up already."

About August 1, Henry's going to put on sale a big issue of tax anticipatory notes—governmental ones. There'll be two classifications. One will be for comparatively ordinary folk, in $25, $50 and $100 denominations. They'll be salable monthly up to a $1,200 annual total. The other'll be for plutocrats and corporations, in denominations from $100 to $10,000, to a $100,000 annual total.

I'm not interested in the second kind. Nor in the first kind, either, above the $25 per month variety, and I certainly hope I shan't have to buy a full 12 months' worth of those—not unless I hike my income considerably. Nevertheless, I do propose to invest in a fraction of 12 months' worth of 'em.

The things draw a small rate of interest, but I shan't hold mine that long. When next taxpayer-day arrives, I'll return 'em to Secretary Morgenthau, saying, "Here's what Uncle Sam's got coming from me." It'll be strictly according to Hoyle for me to do so. In fact, the treasury'll be tickled, for it'll have had its money sooner than it would have had it otherwise.

More Merciful

In hitting on the idea of his "tax anticipatory notes," one thought in the back of Henry's head unquestionably was the advance acceleration of his collections. Aside from that, though, I think he surmised that our next tax payday is going to be so awful that it literally will swamp the public's resources unless he's "induced" into it a trifle gradually. Furthermore, he may have a little mercy in his system.

The anticipatory notes will be obtainable at banks or directly from the treasury. Oh, there'll be no difficulty in getting 'em—if you've got the money.

And excise taxes!—stamps on things.

There's one serious objection to excise taxation. The government gets a take-off on excise stuff, provided it's SOLD. But the tax is liable to make it expensive that customers largely quit BUYING it. Then there may be an actual shrinkage in the yield. It's the "law of diminishing returns," well known to economists.

But an income levy? You pay that or go to jail without any further argument.

Happigrams

By ERICH BRANDELS

Jose Iturbi, famous conductor, telephoned the management of the Robin Hood Dell concerts, in Philadelphia, that he would, under no circumstances, appear on the same platform with Benny Goodman.

Iturbi, who spoke for many minutes, all the way from Hollywood, said, among other things, "It is beneath my dignity to conduct for a jazz-band leader."

The intention had been to have Iturbi conduct in his own classic style and then to have Goodman "give out" his rendition of Mozart's six-movement, accompanied by his six-man "hot jazz experimental laboratory."

Why be so fussy, Mr. Iturbi? Music, in any form, makes people's minds from their everyday sorrow.

Whether it's classic, corn or torrid jive, harmony is good for the soul!

The World and the Mud Puddles

CONSERNING "UNLIMITED EMERGENCY."

After the President broadcast his "unlimited emergency" speech, Congressmen, friends and foes of the New Deal and New Dealers themselves expressed opinions regarding what the President had to say. Personally, I believe that the President could have said all that he had to say in a great deal less time than he took in making his broadcast. However, no one seemed to know then and no one seems to be certain now just what the President meant by "unlimited emergency."

What he said about freedom of the seas was all right. No red-blooded American can differ with the President on that score.

Among the opinions given was one by Ed Ainsworth, whose Column appears on the editorial page of the Los Angeles Times and this is what he said:

"A lot of people are wondering what Roosevelt means by an 'unlimited emergency.' That's the chief thing in its favor, nobody knows what it is. To each man it will mean something different. And that may turn out to be America's salvation. To Hitler, it may mean 'We're through monkeying Adolf. This is the real McCoy. Put up or shut up.' To Wheeler, Lindbergh, etc. it may mean 'You boys have had your say and the people weren't with you. Now get in and pitch for the common good.' To John L. and Perk the Pushover, as they nurse their step-on corns, it may mean: 'This strike stuff is OUT, and I don't mean maybe. This isn't politics any more, it's patriotism. Keep on the job.' To Reds and Fascists it may mean: 'The flit gun is ready. Scram!' And to the public it may mean: 'It isn't Democrats or Republicans any more, it's just Americans. Here we're ready for the big job.' Let us pray."

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

THE CUSTOMER.

The customer is always right!—the merchant's point of view. A policy which settles what all clerks must say and do. But standing at the counters with the eager, buying throng. The customer, I'm certain is quite often in the wrong.

It's business for the merchant to insist on the pretense. That the customer is gifted with uncommon, common sense.

But remembering the patience of some clerks I have in mind. At times I'll say the customer is cruel and unkind.

Some customers are selfish, some are arrogant with pride. They demand a better treatment than they themselves provide; But I'm sure a lot of trouble in this troubled world 'twould save

If as graciously as salesfolk did the customers behave.

Oh it's not behind the counter we should always put the blame. The customer is often stooping low to deeds of shame; And 'twould save a lot of heartache and make easier the work

Were the customer as patient and as pleasant as the clerk.

Daily Dozen

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

The muscle from heel to calf is known as the "tendon Achilles."

In quadrupeds this strong sinew is called the "hamstring."

Instances of severing this tendon in man are not common.

Medical history records only 86 cases.

Last year two cases occurred in the United States.

Both were University of Illinois athletes in strenuous play.

Opposing players stepped suddenly on this muscle when it was taut.

In both instances, the muscle was torn apart.

Surgeons sewed the torn ends together.

Complete recovery was reported in both cases.

Without surgery, deformity is likely to result.

Achilles was vulnerable in the heel—so are other people.

Wisconsin Woman Attempts Suicide In Chicago Hotel

Pathetic Love Note Left In Hotel Room By Dorothy Powell

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, July 11.—A pathetic love note which she left in her hotel room was revealed today as Dorothy Powell, 25, who was named "Wisconsin's outstanding woman pilot" in 1937, lay near death from the effects of poison she swallowed yesterday.

She has failed to regain consciousness, and physicians expressed little hope for her recovery. Her farewell note was addressed to "Don," not yet identified. It read in part: "I can't bring myself to write to mom and dad. I've known since last winter that I was going to die. I didn't tell them, you or anybody."

"I wanted fun and excitement and I didn't want to worry anyone. The time was so short; three months, they said. Well, it was longer than that. Doctors can be wrong too. But this is it. I'm not afraid, only lonesome. . . ."

The girl is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Powell of Lacrosse, Wis., who arrived in Chicago last night. They were unable to explain their daughter's act, but declared she had not been near death from illness as the note seemed to indicate.

Night Club Singer Attempts Suicide

In Serious Condition At Columbus Hospital—Blighted Romance Cited

COLUMBUS, O., July 11.—Rae Marsh, slender, dark-haired night club singer who crooned "My Man" across the floor to the one she hoped to marry, lay in a Columbus hospital today, a self-inflicted bullet wound close to the heart that Cupid struck.

Police said she shot herself last night soon after Lee Kramer, master of ceremonies at the night club, told her by telephone from Youngstown: "I can never marry you because of my physical condition. Why not wait a few months and see if you still care?"

Kramer suffered a spinal injury in a fall in the Catskill mountains a few years ago. He is recovering from additional injuries received in an auto crash near Youngstown last Saturday.

The 26-year-old singer met Kramer while both were appearing at a Miami Beach, Fla., night club. She told friends they were engaged. Police said she told Kramer that unless he would marry her she would kill herself.

Reynolds-Summers Force Has Picnic

Store Employees And Families Frolic In Mushball, Other Sports

Store clerks, stenographers and executives turned mushball players yesterday at the annual outing of the Reynolds & Summers store force at Stoughton's Beach. Thirty attended.

The five-inning softball game, one of a score of picnic highlights, ended in a 10-10 victory for the Chester P. Reynolds team. Losers were the Frank C. Summers players. The umpire, Guy Francis, target of howls from both sides, was happiest when the game was over.

The store was closed at noon for the outing. Following the mushball contest came swimming and other sports, with a chicken dinner at 6:30 topping things off. More games came after dinner.

In the softball tilt the batting of Mrs. Vic Urban, Leone Weis and Ernie Criswell and the fielding of Al Grossman, first baseman, was—someone on the side line said—"next to sensational."

Beaver Townships

Big Beaver Grange Ladies club met Tuesday afternoon in the hall. Mrs. Emma Miller, vice president, presided.

Mrs. Wayne McHattie, Mrs. W. N. Walker and Mrs. Jennie Davenport, committee, arranged for a good program, also had for their guest speaker Miss Pauline Best of Philadelphia, who is spending her vacation at her home in Enon Valley. Miss Best gave an interesting talk on social service in Philadelphia, where she works from the University of Pennsylvania. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostesses.

The second annual reunion of the McGeorge families will be held at Darlington Lake Park on Saturday, July 12. A basket supper will be enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lehberger and son spent the week-end with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kurtz of Little Beaver, and Mr. and Mrs. Lehberger and son are now living in Washington, D. C., where the former is employed.

The W. M. S. of the Rocky Spring U. P. church met at the home of Mrs. O. C. Baker on Wednesday afternoon.

The wise and safe course is clear. It's the one of which the State Department says: "No, it might divide our people."

While waiting for complete agreement, Mr. President, name a war or crisis in which our people weren't divided.

St. Louis Obtains New British-Type Fire Equipment

(International News Service)
ST. LOUIS, July 11.—Fire Chief Lawrence Cornoyer of St. Louis believes that city is the first in the United States to get the new British-type equipment for fighting fires due to sabotage and bombing.

One aerial ladder truck of this type, with a 100-foot ladder and designed to throw 750 gallons of water a minute, has already arrived and was demonstrated at the recent regional meeting of the United States Conference of Mayors in St. Louis.

The hundred-foot ladder can be raised, rotated completely and lowered in one minute and two seconds. To get to the summit of the ladder a fireman has only to step on a small platform and be hoisted to the top. The ladder is of steel, surpassing by 15 feet the tallest ladder previously possessed by the department.

Another Ladder On Order
St. Louis has another ladder and six 1,000-gallon pumps on order. Chief Cornoyer explained that the entire fire defense program for the city has been worked out in the smallest detail, with added emphasis on prevention. Inspections have been made of all vulnerable points and measures taken to safeguard them.

One unit of the defense fire fighting apparatus will protect a large plant manufacturing bombs, it was said, while another will guard a small arms plant being built in St. Louis.

U. S. Urged To Use Plants Now Built

Industrial Realtors Warned Of Waste In Defense Plans In Nation

NEW YORK, July 11.—Millions of square feet of industrial space is available throughout the country, and the national defense effort is being impeded by wholesale construction of new plants, instead of utilizing existing space, the Society of Industrial Realtors was told yesterday at its meeting in New York. This is the first meeting of the society, which was authorized at last November's national realtor convention in Philadelphia.

George B. Robeson of Camden, N. J., asserted that failure to use existing manufacturing space in desirable locations was causing a great waste of time in the defense effort, in addition to increasing consumption of steel and other building materials needed for essential defense goods.

Walter S. Schmidt of Cincinnati, society president, and J. S. Bradley of Toledo moved for a nation-wide study, first to develop ways to use expanded industrial space after the emergency and, second, for scientific location of plants in order to stabilize cities in relation to their industries.

Governor Gets Bad Egg Bill

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, July 11.—A bill designed to abolish the sale of bad eggs to bakeries for use in pastries was on the desk of Gov. Arthur H. James today for his consideration.

The measure would compel dealers of eggs unfit for food to be licensed by the department of agriculture and require a state permit for the sale of incubator eggs.

Introduced by Sens. Anthony J. DiSilvestro and H. Jerome Jaspas, Philadelphia Democrats, the bill was the result of an investigation in Philadelphia disclosing that bad eggs were sold to bakeries at cut prices although ostensibly shipped to tanneries for chemical purposes.

A year's production of zippers is valued at $17,847,114 according to manufacturers' reports to the Census.

Father Gives His Life In Futile Rescue Of Son

Feeble-minded Son Wades Into Water Too Far, Drowns As Father Goes To Rescue

(International News Service) NEW LISBON, N. J., July 11.—Stephen F. Dunn, 53, of West Orange, gave his own life Thursday in a futile effort to save his feeble-minded son Stephen, Jr., 15, from drowning in a lake at Lebanon State Forest near New Lisbon.

Eyewitnesses said Dunn and his wife plunged into the waters of Duck Hollow pond when the youth, an inmate of a home for the feeble-minded, screamed and disappeared from view. A daughter, Mary Ellen, 12, also rushed into the water and threw her mother a log as she was sinking for the second time.

Mrs. Dunn was reported in serious condition by physicians who worked over her. The bodies of her husband and son were recovered. There are two other children in the Dunn family—Carol, eight, and Peter, 17 months.

Authorities said Mr. and Mrs. Dunn and their three youngest children visited Stephen Thursday morning at the nearby four mile colony, an institution for the mentally deficient. The group decided to go on a picnic and took the youth along with them to the lake at state forest.

While the father and mother watched carefully, Stephen began wading at the edge of the lake. Suddenly he walked outward and disappeared from sight. Observers believe he may have stepped into a hole and perhaps struck his head on the bottom.

Job Of Test Pilot Is Less Hazardous Today Than In Past
Improved Engine Construction And Structural Testing In Factory Have Reduced Danger
By HAROLD LISK
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WRIGHT FIELD, DAYTON, O., July 11.—Much of the danger has been engineered out of the test pilots' job since 1903 when the first test pilot, Orville Wright, made the first successful test flight in the first airplane.
At least so say the Air Corps test pilots who each year at Wright Field make hundreds of test flights in more kinds of airplanes than are tested by any other single organization in the United States.
According to these pilots, engines now are reliable, wind tunnels brush countless bugs out of new designs and structural testing proves the design strength of experimental military airplanes before they are flown.

However, laboratory engineers at Wright Field do not agree that the test pilot's job is "as easy as falling off a log and about as dangerous."
Two Kinds Of Planes
There are two kinds of airplanes, those that fly and those that don't, one aeronautical engineer asserted. "Engineers in laboratories and factories can only develop an airplane so far and then it takes a test pilot to prove whether we were right or wrong."
Field officials explained that new test pilots are selected, not by personal application, but from recommendations filtering through "the service grapevine from other pilots. The preferred prospect is one who has considerable flying experience in a variety of single and multi-engine military airplanes; who has demonstrated cool judgment in tight spots; and who has an extra inherent ability with which only a lucky few are blessed.
A new pilot is assigned to regular flight test work only after he can consistently return accurate data from any of the many different kinds of flight tests.
Major Umstead, chief test pilot of the air corps, explained that take-off and landing tests involve more real hazard than some of the more real spectacular tests. The object is to establish the minimum distances within which an airplane can take-off and clear a 50-foot obstacle and come to a stop after landing over a 50-foot obstacle.

Wide Variety Of Planes
At Wright Field, it is not uncommon to find forty or more different airplanes ready for flight tests at one time. Typically they would include light, heavy and medium bombers; single and twin-engine pursuits; observation, photographic and cargo airplanes, and a variety of basic combat, transition, advance, basic and primary training airplanes.
Engineers and test pilots agree that flight tests are more hazardous than conventional flights since either new equipment or a new airplane is involved.
As one engineer put it, if one hour of flight, or 20 or 50 hours are safely passed, it is still the first 50 hours on that particular equipment or airplane, and there is no positive assurance that it will hold up under the stress of flight for 51 hours.
Much of the danger has been engineered out of the test pilots' job, but the danger of mechanical failures is still present in test flights.

turned home after spending the Fourth of July holiday with his mother and sister.
Mrs. Nellie Teetz of Wilkinsburg, Pa., has returned to her home after spending the past month with her sister and family, Mrs. James R. Chaney of East Poland avenue.
Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Edwards of West Washington street extension and Mr. and Mrs. Walter McConnell of New Castle spent an evening recently with friends in town.
Mr. and Mrs. Donald M. Teetz of Wilkinsburg, Pa., motored here and spent Monday evening with Mr. and Mrs. James R. Chaney and family.
More Camp Chatter From East Brook
Wednesday morning the second period campers arose early—full of pep and vim. The cool atmosphere didn't dampen their spirits or reduce the usually fine attendance at "colors". A large circle gathered to witness the color bearers, Muriel Hamilton, Millicent Bloom and Mary Lou Locke of "Kitt's" cabin, raise the flag. The bearers looked most patriotic in their newly acquired shoulder bands.
The morning assembly period featured a surprise talk on "Butterflies and Moths" by "Penuche". "The Caterpillar" song was appropriately introduced in connection with the story. The little episode brought fluttering results. Girls were seen flitting around camp with butterfly nets during the day. Penuche, Pan and Chirp proudly displayed a "tortoise shell" butterfly captured on their morning trek designed to find a suitable place for their evening hare and hound chase.
Much interest was aroused concerning the evening chase. When the 6-45 bell sounded the girls came speedily into line to draw slips designating their part in the chase. Twenty hares then stole out of camp to lay a rock and twig trail. "Skipper" led the hounds in games until their starting signal was given. The vicious hounds tracked down the hares, but Mary Mielke of the latter group returned to camp first to ring the bell—giving the hares the complete victory.
Before retiring the campers assembled in the dining room for a good-night worship service. "Splash" contributed a story and Jane Hurst a prayer. The group left for slumber time to the quiet strains of "Brahm's Lullaby".
The trouble is, Mr. President, our people can't get enthusiastic about a war they aren't going to have.

GRASSHOPPERS ON RAMPADE
(International News Service)
SANTA PAULA, Cal.—Hordes of young grasshoppers devoured and stripped a four-acre field of beans in 24 hours recently in the first hopper invasion in Ventura county since 1932. A guard area was established in the Simi Valley region and a crew of men distributed poison daily as the County Agricultural commission reported that the insects may converge on other farm regions. Rainy weather was blamed for the sudden appearance of the grasshoppers.

It's there with an Extra Wallop in reserve

SOMETIMES in your automobile you want zip and ginger, sometimes thrift.

Just name your choice. In this high-stepping Buick straight-eight with Compound Carburetion† you can have either, each in its proper place.

You can go about your business in easy, ordinary, everyday travel—and this thrifty, two-carburetor system will keep you rolling smoothly with only the forward, thrifty-size mixer on the job.

Yet any time you want life, lift, super-power it's there with an extra wallop in reserve—just step down on the treadle and you've got it.

That simple move sends the second carburetor into action; steps up not only fuel supply but the air supply as well.

Thus you have your fun—and frugality too. Owners report mileage figures as much as 10% to 15% higher than on previous Buicks of the same size.

Which means, better go look at the engine that's both thrifty-packed and thrifty too. You'll find it in a bigger, roomier, smarter-looking automobile that gives you more value per dollar than anything else you can buy.

†Available at slight extra cost on Buick Special models, standard on all other Series.

for the Business Coupe

State tax, optional equipment and accessories—extra. Prices and specifications subject to change without notice.

PAYS YOUR GAS TAX FOR YOU
At present Federal tax rates, the savings on gasoline effected by Compound Carburetion are usually more than enough to pay Federal taxes on the gas you buy.

Will Set Date For Negotiations On Railroad Wages

Conferences Over Wage Increase Demands Will Probably Be Held In Chicago

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, July 11.—Preliminary meetings to set the date for the beginning of wage increase negotiations between the railroads and the railway labor unions were held Thursday with an agreement on the date expected late today.

Representatives of three railroad associations—from the east, west and southeast—and delegates of the five operating brotherhoods and the fourteen non-operating unions held a round of conferences to decide when actual negotiations were to begin.

Neither railroad spokesmen nor union leaders would predict when negotiations will start, but B. M. Jewell, one of the leaders of the fourteen non-operating unions, said that railway workers were anxious to begin "at the earliest possible date."

Jewell also said that the place for the meetings will probably be Chicago.

The five brotherhoods have asked for 30 per cent wage increases and the non-operating unions—representing repair workers and other employees who service the trains—are seeking a 30 cents an hour boost and a minimum of 70 cents an hour.

Railroad executives estimates that the combined demands of the unions, if granted, will cost the roads $900,000,000. Labor leaders were skeptical of this figure but would make no estimate of their own.

A meeting will be held at 2:30 p. m. today at which the date for the commencement of discussion on these major issues is expected to be set.

Ask Removal Of State Troopers

(International News Service)
POTTSVILLE, Pa., July 11.—Free-lance miners in the lower anthracite fields today prepared to ask Gov. Arthur H. James to remove 150 state motor policemen assigned to guard coal companies engaged in strip mining at nearby Donaldson.

Four thousand members of the Independent Miners' Association met last night and selected a 10-member committee to confer with the governor tomorrow.

The police, under the direction of State Police Commissioner Lynn G. Adams, established headquarters near Donaldson where 16 miners were injured during a riot Wednesday.

Frank Corrales, Hazleton politician and head of a construction company that leased the stripping operation, said he had requested state troopers to protect the property "because local authorities were unable to cope with the mob action prevalent here."

HERE'S A DARE that is a dare!

Put pure white Swan beside any other floating soap—and compare! For mildness! Washing efficiency! Economy!

Use Swan for baby; for hands, face, bath; for silk stockings and undies; for dishes and woodwork. Then if you don't say—"Swan is tops!"—mail us the wrapper and we'll send you double your money back. Swan, Lever Brothers Company, Cambridge, Mass.

Now—compare the suds! Look! Swan

lathers 2 times quicker; gives more suds than old-fashioned floating soaps. Suds that don't go thin and skimpy in dishpan or washbowl. And Swan gives thick, velvety lather even in hard water!

SWAN WINS AGAIN!

AND PURE?

SWAN'S AS PURE
AND MILD AS

Pure? Lady, lady—money can't buy

a soap that's purer than Swan. It's as mild as fine imported 100% olive oil castles, too—all of which makes Swan ideal for baby's delicate skin; for lovely complexion; for busy, soft, white hands.

Lawrence County Farms And Farmers

By H. R. McCulloch, County Agent

MOISTURE IS IMPORTANT IN VEGETABLE GARDEN

Lack of sufficient moisture, especially during the hot months of July, August, and early September, may cause many garden failures.

This trouble may be largely or entirely overcome by following a method of mulching or installing a portable irrigation system, depending upon local conditions.

On farms mulching materials such as straw, spoiled hay, finely cut cornstalks, straw manure, or other litter, usually is available.

Cover the ground with this material sufficiently heavy so that weeds will not grow or the soil dry out easily. This means about 6 to 8 inches for straw mulch before it settles. Mulching is particularly beneficial for tomatoes, peppers, eggplants, cucumbers, melons, celery, and other vegetables that have a long growing season.

For town gardens and others where mulching materials are not available, but where there is water pressure, a portable irrigation system may be installed at little expense. Such a system applies the water so lightly that no puddling or hard crust will result. One should irrigate so that the moisture penetrates to a depth of at least one inch. If it does not rain, will provide sufficient moisture.

Practice shallow cultivation when the surface dries enough after irrigation. This will control weeds and maintain a surface mulch.

PROMPT CULLING HELPS LAYING FLOCK SUCCESS

Prompt removal of the fowls whose production has ceased is an important part of efficient laying flock management.

Since flocks normally molt after going out of laying, they soon reach a pin-feathery stage which makes dressing for market more difficult. Then, too, such fowls usually lose one-half to a pound in weight. Consequently, the poultryman markets less weight, a less attractive fleshed carcass, and must accept a lower price for what he sells. Prompt culling is good business, therefore, from the marketing standpoint.

Fowls in full production have relatively large, red, soft, and velvety comb, wattles, and face. The body is large; the abdomen soft and full with a velvety feel to the skin. These are indications of the activity going on within the body where eggs are being manufactured and large quantities of feed and water are being turned into product for human consumption. The wide spread between the pelvic bones and between these bones and the keel bone further emphasize this activity. The event is large, moist, and pinkish.

When egg production slows down or ceases, body size decreases, the spread between the bones becomes narrower, and the skin over the abdomen becomes harsher. There is a definite tightness of the abdomen below the pelvic bones. The head parts become shrunken, pale colored, and harsh to the touch. The vent becomes small, dry and puckered, and gradually assumes a yellow color as fats are deposited in the body.

A catching hook is an important piece of equipment in any laying pen. As the poultryman works at his chores he has opportunity to remove fowls promptly as he sees them showing the ear marks he has learned to associate with loss of production activity. Many poultrymen, particularly those with Leghorns, also cull from the roosts at night by means of a flashlight. The head of the fowl is thus readily seen and used as a guide in determining which fowls should be removed as non-layers. Further handling and examination as described above definitely settles the matter.

TEXTILE TERMS AID TO SATISFACTORY BUYING.

Every trade has a language all its own, and the textile industry is no exception.

If a woman knows the meaning of the textile terms on fabrics and clothing she buys, she can make her own money go further, believes Mrs. Julia Markle Taylor, home economics extension representative of Lawrence county.

It's true that definitions have not been agreed upon for all textile terms. But the trend is for standards—for names and terms that let women know what they are buying. Many such names and terms are in use, and consumers and sales personnel are learning to speak the same language.

Yarn count, sometimes called thread count, means the number of warp or lengthwise yarns per inch of fabric and the number of filling or crosswise yarns per inch of fabric. As usually written the warp count comes first. For example, a muslin sheet 74 by 66 means 74 warp yarns per inch and 66 filling yarns per inch. If both counts are the same, the count is stated as square, such as "80 square percale"—meaning 80 yarns per inch in each direction.

Sometimes manufacturers fill the air space of low-count fabrics with a mixture of starch and other materials, called "sizing". This often washes out in the first or second laundering. It adds little to the actual value of the material, although it improves the appearance of the new cloth so that consumers often are fooled about quality, says Mrs. Taylor.

The use of terms, such as "full shrink," "preshrunk," and "will not shrink" are prohibited unless the cotton fabric has no residual when laundered. It is wise to look for labels that state the exact amount of residual shrinkage to expect. If the percentage is higher than three, think twice and usually don't buy, suggests Mrs. Taylor. Three per cent means more than an inch of shrinkage for each yard. If the fabric is not labeled with facts about shrinkage, it is wise to assume that the cloth will shrink. The use of newer and better labels, giving shrinkage in exact terms, is spreading rapidly.

Another step toward better standards is the Wool Products Act which goes into effect July 14 of this year. This act provides that labels on every wool product will have to state the exact percentages of each kind of wool. The labels also will have to tell of any other fiber used, such as cotton, rayon, or silk.

In connection with the new law are several terms consumers will need to know. "Reprocessed" means fiber made from wool that has been previously woven or felted into a wool product, but never used by a consumer. "Reused wool" is fiber made from wool or reprocessed wool which has been made into a wool product and used by a consumer. New wool is not necessarily the best, for there are both good and inferior grades of new wool.

BUSINESS OF FARMERS DEMANDS ATTENTION

The 1941 farm year has just passed the halfway mark. Now comes the harvest when the benefits of sowing, fertilizing, and cultivation are realized.

If your farm account book is in condition so that you can expect a harvest from it? What new ideas about the farm business are you going to reap? A good harvest here will mean better income and better living in the years ahead.

More farmers are keeping accounts this year than ever before. If you are one of these farmers, do not neglect your record now. By keeping accurate records, facts are found on which future plans can be based.

MANY GARDEN TASKS TO BE DONE DURING JULY.

There are many tasks to be done in the flower garden during July. Flower borders and areas where flowers are grown for cut flower purposes should be cultivated frequently. A wheel hoe, such as is used in the vegetable garden, can be used to advantage. If flowers which are planted for cut flower purposes have been planted in long, straight rows running parallel to the rows of vegetable plants, it is comparatively easy to do the cultivating at the same time as the vegetables are cultivated.

Suckerous growth should be removed from the base of dahlias. If dahlias have not been staked this must be done at once.

Climbing roses do best if the old wood is removed as soon as they have finished blooming. This pruning practice applies to all climbing roses with the exception of Dr. Van Fleet.

Fresh seed of digitalis (Fox Glove) and campanulas should be sown

President Asks Congress Provide Another Big Fund

Seeks $4,700,000,000 To Provide For Contingencies Since Budget Was Set

By GRIFFING BANCROFT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 11.—President Roosevelt on Thursday asked Congress for another $4,700,000,000 for the army "to provide for contingencies which have arisen since transmission of the budget."

Although the request, which came in the form of a letter to House Speaker Rayburn (D) Tex., did not give a detailed breakdown, informed congressmen said the money included funds for 10,000 new tanks and a great increase in the army air force.

Most of the money—$3,486,034,036—was asked for army ordnance and ordnance supplies, without divulging further details.

Other items in the general breakdown sent to Congress were: Clothing and equipment, $443,123,275; army transportation, $103,033,557; regular supplies, $7,274,710; horses and pack animals, $1,054,810; construction of buildings and utilities at military posts, $84,000,990; for the army signal service, $349,280,825; army air corps, $204,007,800; medical department, $3,652,437; engineer service, $61,118,970; and chemical warfare service, $27,275,168.

In an accompanying letter from Budget Director Harold D. Smith with which the president said he "concurred," purposes of the new money were given as:

"To provide for further strengthening of the national defense in accordance with general objectives previously approved."

Before the president's letter went to the House, Presidential Secretary Stephen T. Early said that a request for additional funds for lease-lend purposes would be sent to Congress later.

As used in card games, the word "trump" is a corruption of the word "triumph" as pronounced in French.

U. S. Physician 66, Returns To His Old East African Post

(International News Service)
MELROSE, Mass., July 11.—At the age of 66, Dr. William T. Lawrence is going back to his old post at Mt. Silinda, East Africa, an outpost of the American Board of Foreign Missions.

It was nearly 40 years ago that
Dr. Lawrence and his bride began their work caring for the sick among the Chindau people who live in the area. Mrs. Lawrence died last April.
There are only two nurses located at Mt. Silinda at the present time.
Dr. Lawrence, now within four years of the compulsory retirement age for a physician under the American board, said he would remain at the post until a younger man takes over.

Formerly two doctors and two nurses were in the area.
Dr. Lawrence leaves five sons and two daughters in America.

Benson Ford And Bride Honeymoon In California

(International News Service)
DETROIT, July 11.—Headed for a
California honeymoon were Benson Ford, son of Edsel Ford, and his bride, the former Edith McNaughton, daughter of the Lynn McNaughtons of suburban Grosse Pointe.

Behind them the couple left with the cream of Detroit society the memory of a wedding marked by a quiet simplicity before 200 selected guests. The Rev. Francis B. Creamer performed the ceremony in Grosse Pointe's Christ church chapel.

The bride was given away by her father, former Cadillac Motor Company executive. Mrs. Henry Ford II was among the six bridesmaids, while her husband attended his bro### ther as best man. Maid of honor was Marguerite Bodel of Provid- ence, R. I., former schoolmate of the bride.

Prominent among the guests were
Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ford, grandparents of the bridegroom.
The newlyweds will live in Grosse
Pointe in a sumptuous white brick Georgian style home recently purchased by young Ford's parents for a reported $60,000 as a present for

Field Marshall Chetwode Thanks Red Cross Chapter

Assistance To England Now Totals More Than Seventeen
Millions Of Dollars

Field Marshal Sir Philip Chet-wode, chairman of the British Red Cross, today thanked the American Red Cross and the Lawrence County Chapter American Red Cross for the "extraordinarily generous way" the Red Cross has met all its requests.

In announcing receipt of this message, Chairman R. F. Davis stated that the American Red Cross had just completed purchase of more than $1,000,000 worth of additional medical and hospital supplies for the British Red Cross, raising the total relief to Great Britain, including that to the Women's Voluntary Services, to $17,818,465. To illustrate the extent of Red Cross aid to England, Chairman Davis pointed out that more than 15,000,000 surgical dressings and more than 2,500,000 articles of clothing, the majority of them produced in Red Cross chapters, already had been sent to England.

Sir Philip's letter to the Red Cross revealed that a portion of American Red Cross supplies being furnished to the British Red Cross is being used in the Middle East.

Denies U. S. Seeks Bases In Siberia

Welles Says Reports Are Propaganda To Cause Trouble Between U. S. And Japan

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, July 11.—Acting
Secretary of State Sumner Welles denied that the United States is seeking naval and military bases in Siberia and branded such reports as German propaganda aimed at causing trouble between this country and Japan.

The reports, he said, had appeared in Japanese newspapers and also in Budapest that the American government was seeking to establish bases in Siberia, including the Kamchatka Peninsula.

Such propaganda stories, he continued, are without any basis and written for obvious purposes. The subject has never been mentioned in any discussion between the American and Soviet governments, according to Welles.

The secretary also took occasion to deny reports that differences between the state department and other federal agencies are holding up American aid to Latin America.
He explained that all interested government organizations, including the state department, the OPM and others are striving to provide assistance of various forms to the western hemisphere republics.

SENSE OF HUMOR INTACT
(International News Service)
QUITMAN, Tex.—There's at least one farmer in the United States who hasn't let a little thing like heavy rains and high water dampen his sense of humor, according to County Clerk B. A. Holbrook, upon his return from a vacation trip to Alabama. Traveling through "the old state" in endless days and nights of rain, Holbrook came across a field flourishing in Johnson grass.
Prominently displayed was this sign:
"Please do not walk on this grass.
There may be cotton under it."

Babson Believes Stocks Are Cheap At Present; Gives His Conclusions

By ROGER W. BABSON
(Copyright—1941—Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.)

BABSON PARK, Mass., July 11.—It is not the function of this column to forecast the stock market. It is, however, my duty to give certain facts to readers. This week, these pertain to the stock market. Prices Very Low. The dividend-paying stocks, listed on the New York Stock Exchange, are now selling at less than 14 times their dividend compared with nearly 20 times in August, 1939, and perhaps 27 times in August, 1929.

This means that if you shut your eyes and blindly put a little money in very dividend-paying stock, you would get a yield of over 7 per cent!

With the exception of the 1917 break, the 1920-21 panic, and the 1931-33 depression, at no time in the past 41 years have good stocks been so cheap in relation to dividends as today.

After the War? Four main reasons are given for these very low prices: 1. "Present good business is largely artificial due to the war. There will be a severe and long business slump immediately after the war is over." My answer to this is that the first part of the statement is true; but not necessarily the second part.

A sharp drop may be expected directly after the coming armistice; but it should be short, followed by a healthy reconstruction period which may last for some years. In this, the United States and Canada must take a leading part. Of course unless some great new industry comes into being, the world must some day "pay the piper," but cannot fear of such now be overdone?

Frightened Of Labor 2. Labor has the upper hand and is taking all the profits." To read the newspapers, one would think that 50 per cent of the workers are out on strike. Statistics, however, show that, at the very worst, less than 1 per cent of the workers have been on strike at any one time—and less than 4 per cent of those engaged in defense work. This percentage is too much and a disgrace; but are we not "making a mountain out of a mole hill?"

Of course, there has been considerable increase in wages in many industries. But why worry from an investment standpoint? Wage workers spend all they get. If your investments are properly diversified, you get back in additional profits from your chain store and other consumer stocks what you lose on your stocks hurt by labor demands. Besides, we investors are at fault if labor leaders win any unjustified strikes. We cowardly stick our heads under the bed clothes and let the labor leaders do all the shouting.

3. "The U. S. is going Communist and nothing can stop it." Let me reply to this by saying that Communism is distinctly on the decline—everywhere except in the newspaper headlines. Even there it is the fault of those supposed to protect your investments. Consider, for instance, the recent strike in Boston of office building elevator and other employees. Many of these buildings are being operated at a loss and are practically owned by the policyholders of insurance companies and depositors in Boston savings banks. Yet these insurance companies and savings banks did no picketing nor lifted a finger to protect them.

I forecast that after this war there is sure to be a reaction to the right—not further to the left. This return to common sense would come now if the heads of our insurance companies and banks had the courage and fighting qualities of the labor leaders.

What About Taxes? 4. "Taxes will be so high this and following years that the companies will not have profits to distribute." Those who talk as above are making a great mistake. Most taxes are passed on to the ultimate consumer. The retired person living on fixed interest coupons has his net income cut down by taxes. But—as a rule—this does not apply to men in active business who have their money in well-selected common stocks. They are tax collectors—not tax payers. The ultimate consumer pays the taxes when buying goods.

There is also another reason why I do not worry about taxes. The whole Federal and Dominion tax structure depends upon U. S. and Canadian corporations making good money. Over 50 per cent of all government revenue receipts come from taxes on corporation profits and dividends. These governments have put their heads in a noose! Unless they permit these corporations to make good profits, the governments can get no money to pay their bills. Furthermore, the tax experts are now learning that the only way to collect more revenue is to help these corporations make even greater profits!

Face the Facts The simple truth is that none of these excuses are new. Go to your public library and ask for copies of newspapers published 25, 50, 75 or even 100 years ago and you will find the same wailing and complaining. "Panic ahead!" "Labor becoming unruly!" "Taxes are too high!" etc. The very fact that most businessmen and investors are discouraged and fearful now may be proof that many prices are far too low. These same people were bullish in 1929. The great majority are wrong all the time.

Can we have a worse 20 years than from 1920-1940? These were made up of foreign wars, business depressions, reckless booms, presidential campaigns, and every known trouble. There never were 20 years of American history so crowded with uncertainties. Yet, these 20 years show that if one had invested each month in each of America's 24 chief industries—he would have received an average income of over 5 per cent in dividends during the whole 20 years! Moreover, his real "income", including undeclared earnings, would have been over 7 per cent. I say, if you will properly invest the same amount each month—good years and bad—you should come out all right whatever is ahead!

President Asks For Navy Funds

Staggering Sum To Be Expended For Ship Building Is Forecast

ROOSEVELT DECLARES DEFENSE PLANS MOVE

By GRIFFING BANCROFT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 11.—President Roosevelt today approved additional defense expenditures by the navy and maritime commission totalling $3,323,000,000 and requested congress to authorize the money as speedily as possible.

Coupled with the $4,770,000,000 requested for the army yesterday, the supplemental estimates for national defense will reach the staggering total of $8,093,000,000.

Mr. Roosevelt, in making known the newest needs of the military establishment, explained that the defense program was ahead of schedule on nearly every item, and it had become necessary to ask for new authorizations and appropriations now instead of waiting until January.

Conveys New Requests

A letter to Speaker Rayburn conveyed the new requests.

The navy is asking for $1,625,000,000, of which the largest single item was reported by Mr. Roosevelt to be $400,000,000 for the maintenance and repair of defense installations on government or privately owned merchant ships.

Reporters at his press conference immediately inquired whether this meant arming of American merchant ships, but the president replied in the negative.

Certain precautions are necessary, he pointed out, such as "de gaussing" ships as protection against magnetic mines. The item also would include conversion of private ships for navy use, the president said. Noting that such conversion costs more money frequently than the original value of the vessel.

The maritime commission is applying for immediate appropriations of $698,000,000 and contract authorizations for $1,000,000,000.

Build Many Ships

This total will be used primarily for an implemented construction program of a "great many" ships.

Mr. Roosevelt implied that the current shipbuilding program is as much as six months ahead of schedule. A few new shipyards are contemplated, but for the most part, existing ways will be used.

When the president was asked if additional taxes would accompany the new request, he replied that the easiest answer was the obvious one—that we have a tax bill every year but do not base it on deficiency estimates. Rather, he said, congress and the treasury wait until the end of the year when they have concrete figures before them.

Other items in the new navy program include $200,000,000 for ordnance and ordnance stores; $3,000,000,000 for pay, subsistence, clothing, etc.; $300,000,000 for public works and housing; $90,000,000 for aviation; $80,000,000 for the Marine Corps and $160,000,000 for repairs.

Indian Tribe Host At Scout Day Camp

Special Program Is Enjoyed By Girl Scouts Thursday At Cascade Park

Girl Scouts at Day Camp closed another glorious day in beautiful Cascade Park as guests of the Indian Tribe, at their home on the hillside above the river, on Thursday.

Loud beating of the tom tom greeted each arrival at the carnival fire, burning brightly in front of the white tepee, which was painted in authentic Indian designs. The peace pipe, a welcome to the pale faces by the Indian chief, opened the program.

The Monarchs, who took their name from the King of the Butterflies, are making a collection of the various varieties and did a folk dance from Hansel and Gretel. Another Indian tribe portrayed their various Indian names by charades, with the others guessing Hiawatha, Red Wing and others.

The scouts have been working hard at their outdoor cooking, wood carving, and making Indian bands for their heads. Another group entertained by cleverly portraying Mother Goose rhymes.

At the closing circle Miss Helen MacLean, camp director, introduced Mrs. George Ward, who was given a royal welcome on her return from Camp Edith Macy, the national leader's training camp. Mrs. Ward is going to lead the pioneer group, who love comfortable living out-doors.

Several favorite songs were enjoyed and the day ended with Taps as the sun dipped over the hill. To the haunting refrain of an Indian song the guests reluctantly said goodbye and wended their way down through the trees to the everyday business of tidying up to go home.

Dorothy Kilgallen Becomes Mother

Son Is Born On Anniversary Of Birthday Of Dorothy's Father James L. Kilgallen

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 11.—An eight pound boy was born today to Dorothy Kilgallen, famous syndicated Broadway columnist of the New York Journal and American, who in private life is the wife of Richard Kolmar, leading stage and radio actor.

By a remarkable coincidence the boy was born on the birthday of Dorothy's father, James L. Kilgallen, star reporter of International News Service, and a nationally known newspaper man.

Dorothy, 26, and a veteran reporter herself, achieved fame four years ago when she flew around the world in a race against two rival newspaper men. She circumnavigated the globe in 24 days and was the first woman to fly the Pacific Ocean.

Men With Three Years Training Can't Be Drafted

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, July 11.—Dr. William Mather Lewis, state director of selective service, today reminded local board members that men who have satisfactorily served three or more years in the nation's military or naval units are not liable for training.

He pointed out that amendments to the training act included exemptions for former members of the navy, marine corps or coast guard in addition to the regular army, national guard or reserve army.

Dr. Lewis explained that a number of registrants who now are exempted by the amendments have been inducted into the army but that they may be discharged upon application through company commanders to the adjutant general's office of the war department.

Donovan Gets Appointment

Named By President As Coordinator Of Information For United States

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 1.—President Roosevelt today appointed Col. William J. "Fighting Bill" Donovan of New York as "coordinator of information."

A brief White House statement explained: "In his capacity as coordinator, Mr. Donovan will collect and assemble information and data bearing on national security from the various departments and agencies of the government and will analyze and collate such materials for the use of the president and such other officials as the president may designate."

The White House made it plain that Donovan, world war commander of the fighting 69th, would in no way supersede or duplicate the activities of the general staff, the regular intelligence services, the federal bureau of investigation or any other existing intelligence agencies.

Better Correlation.

It is understood that one of Donovan's tasks will be a better correlation of activity between American intelligence agencies and the British intelligence. Recently, there have been charges of lack of co-operation from both sides.

(Editor's Note: William K. Hutchinson, chief of the Washington bureau of International News Service, on June 23 exclusively forecast that President Roosevelt would soon name Col. Donovan to such a new and important post in the administration.)

The president appointed Donovan to the new post by executive order in his capacity as commander in chief of the armed forces.

The New York attorney, who served as assistant attorney general in the Coolidge administration, and ran unsuccessfully for governor of New York on the Republican ticket, has made two secret missions abroad for the administration in recent months.

He toured the Balkan states and the middle east war theater shortly before the Nazi blitzkrieg pushed through that area and he also went to London.

Experiment With Shipping Under Harbor Blackout

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 11.—Coast Guard officials today pronounced successful a maneuver carried out in New York harbor to determine whether shipping could operate there during a blackout.

With Navy and Coast Guard ships acting as observers, four Standard Oil tankers and a foreign merchant vessel were guided up Ambrose channel and brought into the bay off the Statue of Liberty by regularly assigned pilots.

The ships involved in the maneuver were guided only by dim special buoy lights. While the Coast Guard tender carried officials to the scene of the test, a Coast Guard plane observed the maneuver from overhead. Whether the lights were visible to the plane will not be known until the report of the pilot is received.

But Capt. John S. Bayliss, Coast Guard captain of the port, termed the maneuver a success.

Vichy Ponders Terms In Syria

Government Quarters Admit That Armistice Is Inescapable

(International News Service)

VICHY, France, July 11.—The French government actively considered concrete terms today for an armistice with the British and "Free French" forces in Syria.

Government quarters in Vichy admitted that an armistice agreement is "inescapable."

(The London radio, in a French-language broadcast heard by NBC, said Germany is exerting "every possible pressure" on the Vichy government to reject the British armistice terms and continue the fight in Syria.)

While fighting continued in Syria and Lebanon, chief of state Marshal Henri Philippe Petain and Gen. Maxime Weyand, commander of French forces in the middle east, conferred on the British terms at lunch.

Britain's reply to the armistice request made by Gen. Henri Dentz, French high commissioner for Syria, arrived in Vichy this morning but authorities refused to reveal its contents for the time being.

An official spokesman explained the British reply had been sent via London and Washington. He reiterated previous statements that Vichy would not negotiate with representatives of Gen. Charles De Gaulle, the "Free French" leader.

All members of the De Gaulle forces, the spokesman said, are regarded by the Vichy government as traitors to France.

The spokesman also insisted that the Vichy government will not allow native French troops enlisted in the French armies to enter the De Gaulle armies fighting against France. With fighting continuing in Syria, a communiqué said British attacks were repulsed at the town of Ghout and north of the Lebanese coastal town of Damour, which the British already have occupied.

Returning I. N. S. Writer Finds London Has Changed Lot In Past Three Months

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, July 11.—First impressions on returning to London after three months' absence in the United States:

The route march necessary to discover a cigar store with a stock of even a few packages of cigarettes. The shortage of paper matches.

Female help in the smart hotels; girl waitresses at the Savoy, in natty gray uniforms.

The big percentage of London buses with girl conductors; the shock when a woman porter wanted to carry my grip at the railroad station; the amusing effort of a woman guard to yell, in a high falsetto, the name of station halts. Brown-uniformed waitresses in the restaurant car on the train, doing a quietly efficient job of work.

The distance one has to walk to find a habitable pub; and the rather forlorn look about the quick lunch counter with its plenteous of posters advertising succulent dishes and lack of food.

Many New Street Scars
The many ugly new scars in the streets. The shock of viewing one's favorite church as roofless and gaunt as an ancient ruin, with hot ashes still smoking after many weeks.

Disappearance of familiar faces in my old hotel. Youngsters replaced by very old-timers, some deformed. And the shock of finding one's old room minus most of its windows.

Plus the shock of discovering that rates have risen 25 per cent.

The inequality of the food rationing system. Veritable gluttony still possible in the swank eating places, well-loaded sweetmeat trolleys; the old familiar stories of the not-so-rich finding it difficult to get the little things which make life in war-time slightly more bearable.

The increasingly ancient appearance of a high percentage of the London taxi-cabs and the corresponding increase in the average age of the drivers.

The manner in which the town is becoming poster-conscious, and the various things the posters command the inhabitant to do. "Save water," "Lend to defend," "Save 'til it hurts," "You can help the nation to victory," ad infinitum.

Fervish Celebrating
The slightly feverish manner in which the soldiers, sailors and airmen on leave celebrate, particularly in the classy hotels. The not-so-slight increase in heavy drinking, particularly among youngsters.

Efficiency of the black-out, now better than ever and being more rigidly obeyed by the majority.

The dust-laden air as demolition squads bring down dangerous walls and buildings, wrecked in recent raids. The many people who appear to be suffering from various eye and nasal ailments in consequence.

Disappearance of the humorous signs written on black-boards by Cockney news-vendors. Evidently the war is now being regarded more seriously, even by these natural-born humorists.

Increase in the number of uniforms seen in the streets, particularly among women. Corresponding increase in the restaurants. One new uniform—the smart blue one worn by Americans who have joined the "Air Transport Auxiliary," the ferry pilots of this war.

And finally the numbed feeling I got when I went to look up a friend in my old apartment building—to find it had been blitzed to a heap of tangled steel girders and rubble.

Soviet Ambassador In Hour's Conference

Russia's Problems Formally Presented to President
At White House

By ERIC FRIEDHEIM
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Constantin Oumansky, Soviet ambassador to the United States, laid Russia's problems before President Roosevelt and Acting Secretary of State Welles Thursday in an hour's conference.

The Soviet envoy said that he had not presented any new list of materials desired by the Red army under the lease-lend program, stating "the American government knows, and has known for some time, the particular orders we want to place."

Pleading that he could not answer specific questions or supply technical details because information might thus be furnished Nazi Germany, Oumansky confined himself to saying:

"I expressed to the president the appreciation of my government for the attitude taken by him personally and by the government of the United States in our fight against the Hitler aggression."

"Of course we discussed all problems deriving from this situation. I was deeply impressed by the friendly and far-seeing approach of the president."

Oumansky said he had brought "good news" to Mr. Roosevelt concerning progress of the Nazi-Soviet death struggle but again declined to supply specific details.

"It's a stiff fight," he countered when asked if his reports indicated a long war.

Plan Site For Garbage Plant

Land To Be Purchased Outside Ellwood City Borough Limits

FIRE EQUIPMENT PURCHASE HELD UP

Final Action Is Taken On Zoning Ordinance At Council Meeting

ELLWOOD CITY, July 11.—After some two years of consideration, the Borough Council at its regular meeting approved the purchase of land outside the borough limits for use as a garbage disposal site, replacing the one now in use in the Fourth Ward. This action which has been requested by residents of that ward through their councilmen should provide adequate facilities without damage to property owners for some time to come. The actual purchase of the property was delegated to the health, finance committees and the borough solicitor.

In an earlier part of the meeting, on the recommendation of Councilman Lanzl, permission was granted to the Workingmen's Social Club to hold a festival on Palmer's field, the proceeds of such festival to be given entirely to the U. S. O. campaign fund. This was the understanding upon which the decision was reached.

Delay Fire Equipment Purchase
The matter of approving bids for the purchase of fire equipment which has been under consideration by the council for sometime, the minority recommendation of the fire committee submitted by Mr. Boyd was refused. This recommendation asked the acceptance of the bid submitted by the Seagrave Fire Equipment Company providing a ladder truck at a cost of $7,800, and a squad and pumper truck at $8,000.

A. W. Richards, one of the fire company trustees, said the floor and protested the purchase of this equipment. As a fireman who must use the equipment and with a regard for the best interests of the community, Mr. Richards asked that an aerial ladder truck be purchased instead of the proposed equipment. The recommendation of Mr. Boyd was defeated 8-1.

The matter was then referred back to the committee for further consideration.

Zoning Ordinance Passes
Of more than casual importance to the residents of the borough was the passage on second and final reading of the long-projected zoning ordinance. This ordinance will empower the borough to restrict future construction which does not comply with the terms of the ordinance.

It will be recalled that the ordinance provides for the creation of two residential districts, a commercial district and a heavy industrial section. Various restrictions will apply in each district.

A petition asking the paving of Smiley street between Orchard and Hazel avenues was referred to the street committee.

Approval Given
Acceptance was given to a letter from the state Department of Public Instruction announcing the approval given by that body to a request that a section of Wayne township school district be incorporated with the borough school district. This section includes the defense housing project which is nearing completion.

A statement of the Public Utility Commission in reply to a letter of the council protesting the rates of the Manufacturers Light & Heat Co. was read and accepted. It was announced in the communication that the council's opinion would be included in the rate case against the company which is now being heard before the commission.

Indefinite suspension of payment of state funds to municipalities was announced by the state secretary of finance. This failure was laid to the deadlock which has existed between the houses of the legislature and the administration, preventing the approval of the budget which must precede the disbursement of state funds.

Approve Ordinance
After initial reading, approval was given to an ordinance establishing one-way traffic on the hospital hill along Border avenue, Ninth street and Eleventh street between Park avenue and Wayne avenue. If this measure should receive final approval it would provide for traffic movement in one direction up the hill.

Another ordinance to pave Factory avenue between Tenth and Eleventh streets was passed at first reading.

In order to consider further the provisions of legislation recently enacted by the state to place all municipal police under civil service and to appoint the three-man police commission which is required by this law, the council will meet in special session later in the month.

At this time no action was taken although a suggestion was made by Councilman Meniece that consideration be given to some measure which would include all municipal employees within the civil service framework.

Hire Clerk
On the recommendation of the rules and regulations committee, the council authorized the borough secretary to hire Miss Bertha Lusher for a position as clerk and stenographer in the borough offices. Her incumbency will begin on July 16.

The report of the tax collector, H. E. Wilson, showed delinquent tax collections amounting to $36,101.

for 1938, $69.79 for 1939 and $126.09 for 1940. The People's National bank was selected as the municipal banking agency for the next fiscal period.

Only three small fires which were extinguished at a cost of $62.50 were all that was reported by the fire committee.

A request from the Ellwood Water company for approval of a pipe system throughout the Forest Hills plan was received. Full approval was given although only a section of that development which is now occupied will be immediately affected.

Adjournment was reached at 11:15 p. m., the council to meet again in special session at a time later in the month.

Portersville To Vote On Liquor

Petitions Asking Vote At Coming Election Are Filed At Butler

BUTLER, July 11.—A new note was injected into the county's fall primary today when the liquor interests of one district filed a petition to have the wet or dry issue submitted to the electorate and another took out papers at the county commissioners' office with that object in view.

Governmental subdivisions are permitted under existing liquor laws to vote on the wet or dry issue every four years.

Petrolia residents filed a petition today, asking the commissioners to submit the following question to the voters:

"Do you favor the granting of liquor licenses for the sale of liquor in the borough of Petrolia, county of Butler, in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania?"

The borough of Petrolia four years ago voted beer in by a vote of 107 to 102 and liquor out by a vote of 108 to 96.

A similar petition was taken out by the liquor interests of the borough of Portersville, Portersville in 1937 voted beer out by 75 to 42 and liquor out by 74 to 44. The petitioners propose to have the question of the licensing of both beer and liquor submitted to the voters at the forthcoming election.

Bush Services Held On Thursday
ELLWOOD CITY, July 11.—Funeral services for Mrs. Merion Bush, Camp Run, who died in the Ellwood City hospital on Monday, July 7, were held Thursday afternoon at 4 p. m. from the W. D. Porter funeral home on Fourth street.

The service was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Hill, pastor of the Free Methodist church, and she was buried in the Mountsview cemetery near Portersville.

Rotarians Enjoy Musical Program

ELLWOOD CITY, July 11.—In recognition to the pressing cares of a world at war, members of the Ellwood City Rotary club relaxed yesterday evening and enjoyed a pleasant program of music presented by Paul Winter and Miss Marjorie Streeter.

The program included a number of vocal selections by Mr. Winter, some of which were an arrangement of Finlandia by Sibelius and Schubert's Serenade. Miss Streeter was at the piano and illustrated with her playing an Anthology of American Song, sketching the development of the history of the country as it has been recounted in music.

During the business meeting the Rotarians welcomed two new members, John Rae, mechanical engineer, and Dr. L. E. Wells, pediatrician.

Special guests were Frank Moltrump of Beaver Falls and George Herbert of Wampum.

School Board Has Two Resignations

Coal Bids To Be Opened By Board July 24

ELLWOOD CITY, July 11.—The regular meeting of the Ellwood district school board was held Thursday evening at the board rooms in the high school.

The principal business which came before the board was the acceptance of the resignation of two teachers. The resignations accepted were those of Kathryn Lauderbaugh Streeter, teacher of mathematics in Irving Park and Circle school, and Elvina Heibling, teacher of geography in the high school.

No action was taken at this time to fill the vacancies.

A report was received by the board from Miss Edith Shremp, school nurse, reviewing the work of her department during the school year 1940-41. She announced in her report that 2985 students had received medical inspection. Of this number 1533 reported as having one or more physical defects. In 430 instances, correction or treatment has been made. It was the desire of the school nurse that in the future the scope of the nurse's work in this problem of correction be extended.

An adjourned session of the board will be held on July 24 to receive bids for the coal purchase. There is also a possibility that election of teachers will be held at this time.

Mine Owner Says Shot Was Fired

ZELIENOPLE, Pa., July 11.—James Cunningham, co-owner of the C. & S. Coal & Coke Company, whose trucks have been stoned by pickets attempting to organize employees at an adjoining mine, reported today someone fired a shot at him while he was driving to the mine Wednesday night.

The bullet, he said, penetrated the rear window and lodged against a door frame, narrowly missing him.

Trucks of Cunningham's firm were stoned while passing the Shirley Gas Coal Company's strip mine, where picket lines have been established by the CIO United Mine Workers and construction workers. Trucks of the Shirley Company also were stoned.

Applications For Housing Project Are Distributed

Workers In Plants Engaged In Defense Operations Eligible To Live In Project

ELLWOOD CITY, July 11.—Applications are now being distributed for dwellings in the Ellwood City defense housing project, Willard Bleyer, housing manager for the federal works agency, announced today.

Workers in plants in that city engaged in defense operations are eligible to live in the project. Such plants include National Tube company, Aetna-Standard Engineering company, United Tube company and Ellwood City Forge company. These men and their families must be without suitable living quarters at the present time, commuting an excessive distance to and from work, or living singly in the vicinity at the present time because they were unable to find a home for their families.

Men interested in securing a dwelling may obtain an application blank at the designated place at their plant or at the headquarters of the Steel Workers Organizing committee in Ellwood City.

It is expected that the demand for the 100 available houses will far exceed the supply. Therefore it should be borne in mind that the filing of an application will not be a guarantee of immediate housing.

Families best meeting the qualifications will be given first choice. Occupancy of the first units of the project is expected to take place about August 1.

Navy At Iceland Puts U. S. Forces Nearer Europe

With the occupation of Iceland, United States naval bases in the Atlantic now extend into the eastern hemisphere and within the war zone declared by Germany. This Central Press map shows the distances from Iceland to the British Isles and Nazi-occupied territory. Other U. S. naval bases recently acquired from Great Britain for the defense of the western hemisphere are shown, including Trinidad and British Guiana which were manned by U. S. troops simultaneous with the U. S. navy's occupation of Iceland.

Threatened by Japan if Russia Falts

Russia's port of Vladivostok is the key city of the Sea of Japan. Without it, the Japanese can never realize their ambition to be undisputed masters of the Far East. If Russia suffers a decisive defeat in the West or is forced to throw her Eastern army against Germany, Japan may attack Siberia. (Central Press)

Tells Safest Place To Avoid Bombing

By CAPTAIN JOHN H. CRAIG
U. S. Marine Corps, Retired
Written Especially for International News Service.

If you have to be bombed and wish to avoid being injured, the first rule as worked out by the British Royal Society of Actuaries, which has been studying the subject, is to move out into the country and buy a house with a green roof on the opposite side of a hill from the one from which enemy bombers may be expected to come.

Bombing, say the Royal Actuaries, is expensive for the nation that does the bombing, as well as for the one that furnishes the target. If you are well away from munitions works, mines and industrial establishments, the chances are that you will never hear a bomb explosion.

On a basis of cold statistics, it does not pay a country at war to drop bombs in any territory where the population averages less than 2,500 per square mile.

On this basis, the safest spots in the United Kingdom just now are the mountain ranges of Scotland and Wales and the hills of western England. Few bombs have been dropped in these areas, practically nothing damaged, except in a few districts where intensive military activities are being conducted.

Not only do Nazi bombers conserve their explosive eggs by refusing to pull bomb-levers over mountain ranges, but it is impossible to see houses with green roofs and walls against such a background, and if you live on the opposite side of a hill from the one over which the bombers come, they will have passed your dwelling before they realize that it might constitute a target.

If you must live in a country that is being bombed and cannot move out into the hills of its hinterland, the best place to establish your residence is in a steel-and-concrete skyscraper. Pick a modern one with heavy structural frames and as many stories high as possible.

Don't move in on the upper story or on the floors near the ground-level. These are dangerous. Pick yourself an apartment not less than three stories above the street and three below the roof. Then you will be practically bomb-proof. Nobody has been killed in such a steel and concrete skyscraper in London since Nazi bombing started except those caught in elevator accidents, etc.

Brick buildings are dangerous and stone apartment houses are worst of all. When a bomb hits near a century-old brick block of dwellings, it tears the bricks loose from their mortar and blows them a mile or more with the force of projectiles. When a 1,000-pound Nazi egg lands on a stone building, the stones break into a murderous shower of fragments.

Steel and concrete do not break into fragments under bomb-blasts. There is a spectacular lesson in the difference between modern steel construction and century-old brick and stone in the Knitsbridge area of London, where a modern apartment is undamaged, even its windows being intact, while whole blocks of ancient houses on either side of it are leveled to the ground.

The safety of the best type of modern skyscraper was first demonstrated during the bombing of Madrid during the Spanish civil war.

Report Dispute At Ford Plant

(International News Service)
DETROIT, July 11.—Trouble between employees and the management was reported in progress today in the "B" building at the Ford Motor Company Rouse plant.

That particular building houses 16,000 employees working on the final assembly line.

Ford officials admitted a dispute was in progress but said they were without authority to offer details.

A similar statement came from the offices of the UAW-CIO with whom the company recently signed a collective bargaining contract.

The Rouge plant was the scene of a UAW-CIO strike early in April.

The bureau of the census reports that total tax collections in the 48 states were 11 times greater than collections for 1915.

Payne Is Facing Operation For Football Injury

(International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD, July 11.—Nine years ago, when he was playing prep school football at Mercersburg, Pa., John Payne, 20th Century-Fox film star and husband of Actress Anne Shirley, was kicked in the back.

Although he didn't know it at the time, he cracked his third vertebra and now, years later, Payne is faced with undergoing a spinal operation.

The actor expects to enter the hospital in about a month, he said today, or as soon as he completes his current picture, "Weekend in Havana."

"Doctors tell me I can put the operation off for a while longer," declared the star, "but I will have to come to it sooner or later. So I am going to get it over with."

Chief effects of the injury, says Payne, are muscle spasms in his chest and back whenever he becomes physically exhausted.

According to the actor, the operation will necessitate bone grafting. But, once the job is done he has been promised he won't have any more trouble.

Guerilla Tactics
Are Engaged In
By State SenatorsMinority Demands Discharge
Of Republican-Controlled
Committees

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, July 11.—A stubborn Democratic minority in the senate today continued its guerilla tactics against the majority leaders by demanding the discharge of Republican-controlled committees.

Sen. John H. Dent, Westmoreland Democrat, offered four motions to discharge committees which hold four Democratic bills that face little chance of being reported to the floor.

Sen. H. Jerome Jaspian, Philadelphia Democrat, sought the discharge of the Public Utilities committee for failure to report for action a measure providing for the protection of farmers' electrical co-operatives.

Sen. John P. Haluska, Cambria Democrat, again attempted to force the discharge of the committee on welfare, public assistance and pensions.

The Republican majority, however, easily defeated the Democratic motions despite the fact that it definitely placed them on record as opposing the legislation involved.

Dent charged the Workmen's Compensation committee had "pickled" a bill liberalizing the workmen's compensation act and another enlarging the provisions of the occupational disease act. He asserted that the committee on labor and industry had pigeon-holed a bill regulating the hours of female labor and an anti-injunction measure.

SUFFERS FAINTING

She was able to be taken home after her injury had been dressed at the hospital.

Wheeler Keeps Up
His Attacks Upon
Roosevelt Policies

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, July 11.—Senator Wheeler (D) Mont., today continued his attacks upon the administration's foreign policy by asserting the United States and Great Britain were "considering" a plan to pool their two navies to patrol the entire Atlantic ocean.

Wheeler contended that the plan was included in the recent proposal by Prime Minister Winston Churchill that the two nations "pool" their naval resources.

The Montanan emphasized he did not know whether the program had been agreed upon but reiterated he had "reliable information" that it was under consideration and that it called for the United States "to patrol the North sea and the British navy the English channel and the southern Atlantic."

Check Membership
Of Sheet & Tube

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, July 11.—A check of union membership against payroll records will determine whether steel workers organizing committee (CIO) represents a majority of approximately 21,000 workers at six plants of the Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co., at Youngstown, O., and Chicago, the national labor relations board ruled today.

Previously union and company officials agreed to determine the collective bargaining issue by such a check by NLRB representatives on records as of June 1, 1941. The firm has two plants in Chicago and four in Youngstown.

Seek To Settle
"Big Truck" Bill
Differences Today

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, July 11.—Two Republican members of the committee seeking to settle the differences between the House and Senate on the "Big Truck" bill were scheduled to confer today with Gov. Arthur H. James concerning the disputed amendments boosting gross truck weights.

Senator John G. Snowden, Lycoming Republican and chairman of the Senate highways committee, and Representative Ellwood J. Turner, Delaware Republican, will meet with the governor to discuss the measure which would increase the gross weight of trucks.

Secretary I. Lamont Hughes, who opposes the increases, said he did not know whether he would be invited to the conference. "I don't know whether the governor will have me in or not," he said.

As the bill passed the House, it called for increasing the gross weight from 39,000 pounds to 50,000 pounds but the Senate would agree to increase weights only to 42,000 pounds.

Reported Killed;
Man Returns To
U. S. From Britain

(International News Service)
WILKES-BARRE, Pa., July 11.—Reported killed in action overseas with the British armed forces, Henry P. Carr, 23, astonished his brother, John Carr, Kingston, when he debarked from a British ship in New York, it was disclosed today.

Henry Carr is on furlough here until Sunday when he will return to his ship. His brother went to New York in the belief he was going to meet another brother, James Henry Carr, who also is serving in the British forces.

Henry P. Carr's death had been confirmed by the British war office and it was presumed that he had been killed in Norway. A letter sent by him to his family in Kingston last fall was lost.

Field Crops Will Not Have Yield
As In Year 1940

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, July 11.—Field crops, except oats and tobacco, will yield less than during 1940, the federal-state crop reporting service predicted today.

Fruit production will be under last year's crop but better than average yields are in prospect for all kinds except grapes. It was added, second cuttings of clover and alfalfa will be better than the first.

The service said that few serious labor shortages have been reported but that farmers were "greatly concerned" about the availability of workers for the fall harvest.

Youngsters Found
Trailing Calliope

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, July 11.—There were two thoroughly mollified youngsters in nearby New Cumberland today whose admiration for the gay tunes of a steam calliope has suffered a sharp decline.

Lured far from home by the music, five-year-old Linwood Siebert and his eight-year-old companion, George Fetrow, were found after a four-hour search by a searching party composed of four fire engines, firemen, policemen, Boy Scouts, citizens and a stray dog.

Forecast Final Approval Of Bill On Draft Ages

Indicate Measure To Reduce Age Limit To 28 Will Meet Final Acceptance

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 11.—The house on Thursday approved provisions of the May bill granting mandatory deferment of men reaching 28 years of age and adding an amendment to end "draft secrecy" by local boards.

The draft age provisions, however, remain subject to reconsideration.

Rep. Cole (D) Md., saying that criticism of operation of the draft act has arisen because some local boards have declined to divulge reasons for exemptions and deferment, offered the amendment to end "draft secrecy."

The amendment, which was accepted by Chairman May (D) Ky., of the Military Affairs committee, in charge of the bill, requires local draft boards to post the classification of draftees together with reasons for the classification.

House action on the 28-age limit apparently forecast final congressional approval, unless the anti-strike amendment should cause defeat of the bill. The senate previously had approved the change.

Under the senate proposal, the president is given discretion to defer men over 28. The house provision makes it mandatory, and in effect results in cutting the upper age of the draft from 36 to 28.

Debate on amendments began when Rep. Elston (R) O., sought the discharge of draftees over 29 who now are in the army. The amendment was defeated.

James D. Fox To Become Officer In U. S. Marines

James D. Fox, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Fox, of this city, enlisted in the United States Marine Corps, at Cleveland, Ohio, on July 8. He will leave shortly for Quantico, Virginia, for Marine Officers' Training.

He attended Carnegie Tech and Allegheny college, and is working on his Master's Degree in Education at Allegheny college at the present time. He also is a graduate of the Citizens' Pilot Training.

A younger brother, Gene, is also in the Marine Corps and is stationed at Parris Island, South Carolina.

Wayside Inn Is Well Operated

GROVE CITY, July 11.—Wayside Inn, home for 129 aged Odd Fellows and their widows here, is being operated "successfully and in a highly efficient manner," it was found when 200 members of the Odd Fellows Home for the Aged of Pennsylvania, a corporation, held their annual meeting here. The work of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Eicholtz, superintendent and matron, was highly praised.

Meeting for the first time at the Home here, the Association members spent the day in an inspection of buildings and grounds, and hearing detailed reports of officers. The annual meeting has been held in Pittsburgh in the past. The Association operates a similar Home in Eastern Pennsylvania.

Members elected new officers and ten members of the Board of Directors were named.

Much of the food consumed by the 129 guests is raised on the farm, which has about 200 acres of tillable land, besides large barns housing a herd of purebred cattle, chickens, hogs, etc.

Council Members Return From Camp

Mrs. C. M. England, Mrs. G. Ward Complete Weeks Training Course At Camp Macy

Mrs. C. M. England of 236 Edgewood avenue, Girl Scout commissioner, and Mrs. George Ward of Deyve avenue, Girl Scout Council member, have returned from Camp Edith Macy, Pleasantville, N. Y., where they enrolled for the council member training course for a week.

Camp Edith Macy is a national camp, covering an area of 132 acres. The camp was given to national Girl Scouts by Mr. Macy, a newspaperman of New York City.

Mrs. England and Mrs. Ward were the only local representatives at the camp who took the course. A professional trainer, Elizabeth Mundy of region one, including Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont, taught the course, which dealt with successful methods in managing a Girl Scout council. This course will enable Mrs. England and Mrs. Ward, as council members, to perform their duties with a more complete knowledge in preparing young girls as Girl Scouts of America.

Courses are available at the camp throughout the summer for Girl Scouts, leaders and professional workers.

REPORT U-BOATS SINK FOUR SHIPS

(International News Service)

German planes during the night were declared to have staged successful raids on Hull and other ports and airports on the English east coast.

Marine Sergeants Hunting Rabbits

(International News Service)

GREAT LAKES, Ill., July 11.—Two burly marine sergeants, with rifles in hand, today stealthily prowled the ravines and lake front near the Great Lakes naval training station.

But instead of hunting spies or would-be saboteurs, the pair of marksmen are tracking down ordinary cottontail rabbits.

The business-like rabbit hunt was ordered by the station's executive officer, Commander T. Desvett Carr, because the animals have become so numerous they are a nuisance. The hunt will continue "until the rabbits are exterminated," Commander Carr's order stated.

GREED ALMOST FATAL

(International News Service)

SALISBURY BEACH, Mass.—A hungry sea gull almost sacrificed itself to its own greed. The sea gull saw a baited line dangling from the side of a fishing boat and swooped down to swallow it. As the bird tried to fly away with the bait, the fishing line pulled it up short. Life Guards Allan M. Lamond and John Labadini freed it from the fishing line.

Qualifications for enlistment are 17 to 30 years of age; 64 to 74 inches in height; weight in proportion to age and height and normal physical condition.

Mahoning Leads In Church Golf, Picnic Enjoyed

Close To 100 Golfers Dine On Hot Dogs And Baked Beans Following Matches

WATERMELON PARTY NEXT ON SCHEDULE

Close to 100 members of the New Castle church golf league and several special guests sat down to a delicious repast at the Castle Hills club house lawn last night of baked beans, hot dogs and coffee and cheese sandwiches following the playing of regular league matches.

The committee consisting of Russell Masill, Dick Hitchcock and Johnny Hodge, assisted by Tucker Hockman, Eddie Long and Mont Magill, deserve plenty of credit for the success of the picnic and entertainment that served the few hours following the matches. A driving contest was held in which George Sargent excelled with the longest drive and was awarded a watermelon for his efforts.

Sargent's drive was about the 300 yard mark and he just barely missed out Karl Rohrer and Jimmy Elder, who hit over 285 yards, the officials claimed.

Golf Balls Given Out

Sargent also won the putting contest, taking 11 putts for six holes. He was awarded a golf ball for this effort. Winners of golf balls as their names were drawn from a big basket were Vivian Shaffer, a special guest of the league, Sam Lewis, T. H. "Tommy" Hitchcock, C. V. Mack, W. I. Clark and William "Bill" Schmidt. Announcement was made concerning the coming annual church league tournament, in which over 100 will participate.

The men were all agreed that they had had an enjoyable evening and will later hold a corn roast and watermelon party, it was announced by Mont Magill, president of the league.

Mahoning Takes Lead

The Mahoning team took over the lead last night by a half-point over the First Christians, the first half champs, by scoring 4½ points over St. Mary's. Medalist honors were held by George Shook and Dave Astor with sensational 38's, while other low scores were Al Garren 39, Ernie Smith 39, H. Penning 40, Sam Lewis 40, Johnny Herzog 40 and Eddie Long 40. The Perelman handicap golf ball went to A. L. Bement with a 31.

Saginich, Pulaski's ace flinger, occupies the local baseball charmed circle again following his no-hit performance against Croton. Pulaski garnered the City-County Independent loop clash, 5-1.

Saginich even stepped to the plate and banged out two hits. Calabret laced a homer for the winners.

West Pittsburg Battles Elders

Marshall field will be the mecca again tonight for the baseball fans who will want to watch the West Pittsburg "Gas House" gang and the Elders A. C. playoff that recent 8-8 deadlock game. The battle will start at 6 o'clock.

Over 2,000 fans saw the game between the two fine teams last Tuesday evening and in event of a nice night tonight there will be little standing room at the field at game-time.

Manager Danny DeGenova will start either Brakovich or Lazar on the hill, he announced, and Manager Joe O'Leary will start Dory Gunnett, Hank Faller or Dick Wilberow. The Elders need this game to stay in the pennant fight with the Indians.

Clem General and Tex Richards have been assigned to handle the West Pittsburg-Elders game at Marshall field tonight.

NEW YORK, July 11.—The Buddy Baer-Abe Simon 15-round battle originally scheduled for next Monday night was re-carried today for July 21.

The Twentieth Century Sporting club announced the postponement on the request of Baer's manager, Ancil Hoffman, who asked more time for the recent heavyweight challenger to get into condition.

Columbus Club Leading In Eighth When Ellwood Team Quits, Protest Entered

The Columbus club softball team of New Castle went to Ellwood City's Ewing Park field last night and defeated the Ellwood City Sons of Italy team 12 to 10 under protest. The Ellwood team quit the field in the eighth inning with the locals leading.

The defeat for the Ellwood team puts them in a tie with the Johnson Bronze team for first place in the league's first-half championship race. The playoff will likely take place Sunday.

Chick Russo and Pete Razzano hit home runs for the Columbus club, to be the feature hitters. Nick Beres and Spencer slashed out triples for the locals. Stephenson started and was relieved by Beres, who was the winning hurler. The losing pitcher was Gallagher.

Joe Louis' Wife Willing To Halt Divorce Action

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, July 11.—Marva Trotter Louis said Thursday she was willing to call off her divorce action against Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis.

Mrs. Louis said she was neither "mad nor irritated over Joe's counter-allegations, made yesterday, in which the champion denied that she was a 'true and virtuous wife.'"

"Those aren't Joe's words. They were put into his mouth by his lawyer or his managers. I'm not mad or irritated. All I want is a reconciliation. I'm befuddled by the whole thing. I think it can be straightened out when I see my husband next week."

Asked about the question of all-movie, Marva replied:

"I can't tell about that yet, not until I see Joe. If he wants to settle things and get back to a normal married life, I'm willing to call it all off. On the other hand, it is hard to tell what Joe will do when he is in a fight."

GOOD SEASON

BLOOMINGTON, Ind.—The end of the school year today has brought to a close Indiana University's most successful sports campaign since 1936, when Crimson athletes captured the Big Ten basketball, wrestling and outdoor track titles and had winning football, baseball and indoor track seasons.

SPORTS WORLD RAMBLINGS

Is it news to you that:

Private Hugh Mulcahy, the Philly pitcher who in the army, did a five inning hitch for Camp Edwards (Mass.) against the Boston Red Sox the other day and pegged scoreless ball? . . . Harley Ray McCollum, Tulane's All-American scrub, may not be available to the Green Wave grid force this fall due to an impending draft call?

Canada has placed a 20 per cent spectator tax on entertainment—including sports of all kinds? . . . University of North Carolina will use the new numbering system designed to simplify the matter of identifying players? Quarterbacks, for example, will be listed from 40 to 49; right halves from 10 to 19; left halves from 20 to 29, etc. . . "Buff" Donelli, of Duquesne, is credited with being the founder of the plan.

"Bill" Terry, during a three-day stay at his Memphis, Tenn., home, predicted that the Brooklyn Dodgers will win this year's National league pennant? . . . "Dizzy" Trout, the Detroit Tiger hurler, has set down the Chicago White Sox twice this season with a single run? . . . Walt Matuseczak, Cornell captain, will play with the eastern college all-stars against the New York Giants in the fresh air fund classic, Sept. 3?

Mike Jacobs, a pugilistic garden-er, should reap considerable "let-tuce" if he puts the Zivic-Soose titular fight in Pittsburgh. Industries in the Johnstown-Pittsburgh-Youngstown section are going ahead at full blast and almost everyone has coin. Zivic, the 147-pound champ, would possibly weigh 155, and Soose, the defending king of middleweights, 158 or 160. The promoter could do worse than toss the fight into Pa Pitt's lap.

Two of three renowned amateurs appeared in a Farrell ring several nights ago. Les Leasure outpointed Pete Misto of Youngstown, Russell Baxter outboxed Joey Jackson of Pittsburgh, but Sonny Horne of Niles dropped the nod to Ben Franklin of Pittsburgh. All were three-round affairs.

It was refreshing to read where Red Grange, Illinois "77", had rushed to the support of his former and aged mentor. He believes that if Bob Zuppke is released as coach, Illinois will suffer irreparable damage. Red claimed he had turned down in 1938 an offer from Wendell Wilson of Illinois to coach at Illinois.

Looking at the "Pennsylvania Angler", we find some interesting information typed by Dick Forney, which is passed on.

Keep frogs in a roomy and airy container, with a handful of moist green grass.

Fish packed in damp sawdust in a good container will keep if no ice is available.

A book of paper matches may be slipped inside the cellophane jacket of a package of cigarettes to keep them from absorbing dampness in the shirt pocket.

In fishing ruffles and rapids for either trout or bass, you need a fly that is well built, with plenty of stiff hackles. Such a fly rides without becoming waterlogged and also is easier to watch in broken water, which causes confusing reflections of light.

Do not use a spinner with a streamer fly. The spinner will interfere with the action of the streamer, which is intended to imitate a minnow. Besides, most streamers have turned down eyes, whereas a spinner fly has a flat eye that will enable it to ride on an even keel.

Natural foods that attract fish are struggling insects and minnows that are crippled. Therefore, try to imitate them when fishing with flies and other artificial lures.

If a bass takes a bait with slow and deliberate run, give it a little time before setting the hook. But if the fish takes the lure with a smash and starts off on a run that makes the reel sing, strike immediately.

George Barrett will head a party to Beverly lake one week from Saturday. Charlie Key and Fred Brundert will head another party to that lake the same day.

The last time Brundert visited Mud lake he allowed his catch to repose on the shore while he went in quest of more bass. Upon his return to shore he found turtle had eaten all excepting the heads.

Reports say that Dick Roberts, Jack Gerson, et. al., are at Seely's Bay. They were there last year and had a good catch. While there Dick will visit his friend, "Doc" Sprout, of Washington, Pa., who has a nice place along the lake. Clarence Campbell and Les Reynolds will soon strike off for Deer lake, reports state. Bill Ferver is at Halls Bridge.

"Pat" Patterson, athletic coach at Union township high, made five casts and got three "muskies" recently in the Allegheny.

Look out for Hillsville in the second half! So exclaimed Jim Martin, secretary of the Lawrence County Baseball league today. Hillsville has strengthened their team with players from the Sheet & Tube and also from other teams. Sweeney, Stacy, Adams, Joe Pepe and Jimmy Tropea are recent additions. Ellwood City is heading the circuit, with two victories and no defeats. Hillsville is one game behind, having played three while Bessemer and Wampum are deadlocked with one and two, or 3-3.

League Secretary Martin believes that umpires are going to kill the goose that lays the golden egg. He claims that the rates of pay, $4 for Sunday games and $2.50 for twilight games, is too much for teams to bear, in view of receipts. He reports that none of the sandlot teams in the county is drawing money. It isn't because money is tight, but because fans are busy working. "The expense is so great I don't believe Bessemer can go next season," Martin asserted.

Joe Rick of this city is having good luck with his string at the Batavia, N. Y., 30 days meet. His horses have won more races than any other stable. Breeze On, p. 2:16, a 4-year-old, has won a race and Deep Run Patsy, 2:08 trotter, has won twice. Mary Henle, a 2:10 pacer, also has won a couple of events. His Lady Maryland brought up lame and the 2:12 trotter was shipped to the stables here. Mr. Myott is training and driving for Rick this summer.

Racing will start at the fair grounds at 1:30 p. m. August 20-21. Speed Secretary Clyde Shoaf announced today. There'll be three harness events and three running races each afternoon. The runners will get away daily at 4 p. m. Shoaf also announced that the pulling contest will be staged at night. He would also like to stage a pyrotechnical display. However, a decision will be made later.

Joe DiMaggio Hits Safely In 49th Straight

Gets Single In Abbreviated St. Louis-Yank Game Under Lights

FELLER HANGS UP HIS SEVENTEENTH

By LAWTON CARVER
NEW YORK, July 11.—Night baseball, a game curtailed to five innings, and a man with a crazy pitch teamed up against Joe DiMaggio, but the Yankee clipper went right on climbing into the stratosphere of consecutive game hitting performance and he was out to make it 50 in a row today. Simultaneously the Yankees sought their 11th straight victory, with Denny Galehouse, of the St. Louis Browns, likely nominee for an attempt to break both streaks.

Playing under the lights at St. Louis last night and batting against Johnny Niggeling, whose knuckler flutters up to the plate like a butterfly on a binge, DiMaggio hit in his 49th game on his first trip to the plate, when he rammed out a single that barely eluded shortstop Alan Strange and leaped on into left field. In the fourth, he fled out and the game was halted on account of rain after the next inning.

While DiMaggio's boulder lent no help to the Yankee victory, Joe Gordon took care of that with his 13th home run of the season in the second to give the Yanks a 1 to 0 victory and to leave them 3½ games ahead of the Cleveland Indians, who won 3-2 behind Bob Feller. The Yankees were limited to three hits by Niggeling, while Gomez was touched for five in scoring his seventh win.

Feller Wins Again
Feller got his 17th of the year against four defeats, limiting the Philadelphia Athletics to six hits and delighting a "Feller Night" crowd by helping to win the game in the ninth with his bat. The score was 2-0, when Feller tripped and came home on Boudreau's single for the winning run.

In a third night game in the American loop, the Chicago White Sox gathered 14 hits and galloped to a 5 to 1 victory over the Washington Senators, who were held to seven blows by Johnny Rigney. The Sox attack was sparked by Mike Kreevich, with three singles and a double.

Boston and Detroit were rained out.

The Brooklyn Dodgers stayed an even three games ahead of the St. Louis Cardinals in the National with an 8 to 3 victory over the Cincinnati Reds in the afternoon, while the Cards beat the New York Giants under lights, 13 to 9.

Kurby Hiege won his 12th for the Dodgers, who knocked Johnny Vander Meer out of the box.

Pirates Trip Phils
The Card-Giant encounter was strictly the fireworks. The Cards piled up an eight run lead in six innings, then the Giants tied it in the seventh and the Cards bounced back for five runs in the eighth as Howard Krist was credited with his sixth straight win against no defeats. But he was just one of three cards who pitched against four Giant hurlers.

Verne Olsen won his sixth game for the Chicago Cubs, beating the Boston Braves, 3 to 1.

The usual piece de resistance at the tail end of these pieces is what the Philadelphia Phillies did—and they did it again. They lost their 55th game of the year, compared with a grand total of 20 victories, their conquerors this time being the Pittsburgh Pirates and the score being 6 to 3.

The amusement section was another active spot although gains were restricted to fractions in Loews and Warner Brothers.

Steel shares did little on the steel institute's report that first half output was the highest on record. U. S. Steel gained a quarter, and Bethlehem 1-8.

Chemical shares were mixed. The Aviations and Motors but both rails and utilities were fractionally better.

The rubber group was actively better, with U. S. Rubber and Firestone up modestly.

How And Why People Drown Is Explained

Few Good Swimmers Are Numbered Among Those Who Die In Water

EXHIBITIONISM FREQUENT CAUSE

"Anyone can drown. It's a simple process, as easy as not breathing—for it is death by suffocation. Water may or may not enter the breathing apparatus or be taken into the stomach, and in either event is only indirectly the cause of death," says Charles Brest, chairman of Life Saving and Water Safety of the Lawrence County Chapter, American Red Cross.

"Drowning may be either active or passive. In the latter case the drowning person slips beneath the surface without warning. His mental and physical paralysis may be the result of a heart attack, a blow, fainting, stomach cramp or fear.

"But the exhausted or panicky bather usually drowns 'actively'. That is, he will remain on the surface for a while and by his frantic and convulsive movements advertise the fact that he is drowning.

"There is little evidence to support the popular belief that 'A drowning person comes up twice before going down for the third and last time'. If he loses his tidal air on the first downward trip and can make no move to rise again he will not resurface at the surface. But if he manages to hold some tidal air on each downward trip and can still make random clawing motions, the chances are that he will resurface not once or twice but half a dozen times.

"What happens beneath the surface in the final descent is well known from accounts of their drowning experience by persons who have been revived. Contrary to popular belief it is not always an agonizing experience. In some cases it has been reported that there was little discomfort in the latter stages of drowning. Others have recounted a distinct feeling of chagrin at being in such a situation. In many instances only confusion and bewilderment preceded the lapse into unconsciousness. Quite different from the life-passing-in-review conception generally held.

"Why we drown, or the circumstances which cause drowning, are numerous but largely preventable. It is significant that the incidence of drowning accidents among good swimmers is not great. When a good swimmer drowns it is usually due to unconsciousness or stomach cramp, poor judgment or exhaustion. Diving into shallow water and striking the head and diving from a height and landing flat on the back or front are likewise contributory causes.

"Among non-swimmers the cause of drowning is most often venturing beyond depth or stepping into a 'hole'. Frequently in surf bathing it is a case of inability to regain the footing after being swept off balance by current or wave.

"In the novice class overestimation of ability, frequently coupled with a tendency toward exhibitionism, is the most common cause of drowning. Your novice swimmer drowns because he tries to show himself or others that he has skills which he does not possess. The masculine pronoun is used advisedly, for it is a matter of record that 10 white males drown for every female who drowns. Eleven hundred boys and young men between 15 and 19 years of age drown annually in demonstrating their superiority to safety regulations. Pans, usually due to failure to reach an objective, is also responsible for many drownings in the novice class. The knowledge and training made available by the Red Cross can be instrumental in greatly reducing the toll of death by drowning.

"It is interesting, and to some extent significant, that evidence gathered over a period of many years shows quite positively that a great majority of drowning accidents occur very close to shore. In fact a vast proportion of drowning accidents among bathers take place within an area which could be designated by an imaginary line paralleling the shore line of all coastal and inland waterways at a distance of 40 yards."

One German Girl Prefers To Stay In United States

Member Of German Consulate In New York Marries American Youth

(International News Service) NEW YORK, July 11.—Memo to A. Hitler, Wilhelmstrasse, Berlin (or forward, c/o Puchner's Hqrs., Eastern Front).

Dear Adolf:

One of your girls from the German consulate in New York won't be coming home soon, if ever, (the desires of Uncle Sam and yourself to the contrary notwithstanding.)

It seems that this girl, attached, German-born, had a heart interest, an American citizen, also employed at the consulate. She with other ousted Nazi officials, was due to sail back to the Fatherland next Tuesday.

But she won't be coming home now, and she's starry-eyed about it, too. It seems that she married the boy friend this morning and his American citizenship automatically cancels out her expulsion.

Fellow workers at the consulate, who declined to reveal her name, said she is the daughter of a prominent Berlin physician who objected to the marriage.

Sincerely,
D. Cupid.

Cattlemen Draw Up Rules For Dude Ranchers

(International News Service) ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., July 11.—Cattlemen of the Southwest are getting a little bit jealous of the way dude ranchers and motion picture actors have usurped their fashions.

High-heeled cowboy boots do not signify a cattleman anymore, the real cattlemen point out.

So the real cattlemen plan to do something about it. They have drawn up a set of rules which they hope the dude ranchers and Hollywood cowboys will recognize. The rules follow:

1. A man must own at least two head of cattle before he is entitled to wear boots.
2. The owner of three head can stuff the right pants leg in.
3. The owner of four head can stuff both pants legs in.
4. Only the owners of larger herds can wear spurs.

Museum Piece Goes Berserk In Highway Mishap

(International News Service) HANOVER, N. H., July 11.—Even a museum piece can go berserk under modern traffic conditions.

Gracie, a rare white rhinoceros, is a museum piece and she reverted to her jungle ways recently because of a minor highway collision.

One of 45 stuffed mammals being transported from the American Museum of Natural History in New York to the Dartmouth College Museum, Gracie buried her horn in the back of the driver's seat when the truck in which she was riding struck an oncoming automobile.

The driver found her stuck, her ears torn out by the roots. The rest of the cargo consisting of an assortment of animals was shaken up in the collision.

Curator Wedgwood Bowen of the Dartmouth Museum said a little glue, some plaster and some bee's wax would fix all up as good as new.

321ST BLOOD TRANSFUSION

(International News Service)

BOSTON—James Ryder, 43, Boston Seamen's society, has given more free blood transfusions than any other person in New England.

A transfusion of a pint of blood to a Watertown man, suffering from anemia, was the 321st Ryder has given, according to physicians who told him he now holds the record for New England.

Car Over Cab Law Postponed For Two Years

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, July 11.—Gov. Arthur H. James on Thursday signed three bills, including one postponing the effective date of the "car-over-cab" law for an additional two years.

The latter, enacted in 1937 during the Earle administration, has been postponed three times. Supposed to become effective in 1942 the bill postponed the effective date until 1944.

The governor also signed the bill amending the Pennsylvania securities act, which provides for the "registration and regulation of persons and entities engaged in the business of investment advisors and for the revocation and suspension of such registrations, conferring additional jurisdiction on common pleas courts and further regulating the business of buying and selling securities."

A bill making uniform the law pertaining to trust receipts and pledges of personal property also was signed by Governor James.

Plant stems increase in diameter as the season goes on, and room must be left for this development when tying with string or raffia.

Yet you can still find hostesses who hate the Demon Rum so much they won't serve wine unless it is called "grape acid."

London's New Potato Bars Are A Huge Success

LONDON, July 11.—With a hundred recipes on hand, London's first potato bars have opened and are proving a gigantic success.

Selling potatoes hot and cold, sweet and savory, in far more different forms, and combined with far more different eatables than could ever be imagined, the potato bars are giving the popular milk bars some close competition.

This is the beginning of the ministry of food's scheme for promoting snack bars to crusade the cause of the plentiful and nutritious potato—helped out by carrots, sprats, and other foods which they want the public to consume in increasing quantities.

Will Give Demonstrations

This follows the experiments of experts who have discovered a hundred ways of serving a potato. Not only will the bars be open for the sale of potatoes, but one corner of the bar will be reserved for non-stop demonstrations to housewives on how to cook them.

To name a few varieties, there are bright green potato soups, sun-set mashed potatoes, coffee potato scones, "Pies in Clover," "Jack-in-the-Box" and "Picnannies."

It is hoped by the ministry of Food that the big stores will soon set up luxury specimens of their own, and that in time potatoes will be a worthy substitute for the present popular fish and chips.
